Dear Reference Librarian:

Enclosed are two genealogy books I have compiled and have had copied in 1998.

- (1) Jacob Hendricks (1797-1882), Pennsylvania to Ohio, and Jacob's Descendants
- (2) William G. Hendricks (1792-1862), Pennsylvania to Ohio, and William's Descendants

The Jacob book includes Ross descendants who have/had roots in DeKalb County and other Indiana counties. The William book includes Joel Emanuel Hendricks who was a pioneer in DeKalb County. These books might be useful to genealogy researchers in the future. I am donating them to your library.

Sincerely,

INTRODUCTION

Genealogy is the study or investigation of ancestry and family histories. It is a table of descent of a family from an ancestor. Compiling a study of a family line could take many years. The study requires: (1) the cooperation of descendants to provide data, (2) visits to courthouses, libraries, and other places for records, and (3) writing numerous letters with the hope of receiving replies. A perfect genealogy is never completed.

Dale E. Shaffer, an historian and writer from Salem, Ohio and a descendant in the Jacob HENDRICKS family line wrote the following to me in May 1997. "As you know, the research never ends, but at some point it will have to stop long enough for you to put what you have into a book. No one else can or will do that, so it's very important." His statement motivated me to cease researching HENDRICKS temporarily and produce this publication.

I have received the cooperation of many descendants and other individuals. Acquiring new friends through researching HENDRICKS has been a plus I did not envision. When writing query letters, I never expected to receive phone calls from all over the United States in reply. I have so many people to thank for providing data and pictures. If your name has been omitted from the list of acknowledgments, I apologize. I will continue researching the unknown for more complete records of the HENDRICKS family. I will gladly accept further input and corrections for the records. Without your help I could not have organized this history of the Jacob HENDRICKS line and his descendants.

I would never have learned so much background information about the family had it not been for a Jacob descendant, Donna (Goodrich) Vosti of Saratoga, California. Donna had been researching HENDRICKS for ten years when I "met" her through the postal service. Donna provided me with much of the ancestor information to make this publication possible. Donna also provided the Charles & Mary (Templin) HENDRICKS line data.

The Gibbons line data and pictures were given to me by Dale R. Gibbons, Dorothy Jane (Rupright) Koutnik, and Dale E. Shaffer.

I thank Donna and the Gibbons descendants for sharing their collections of family data.

HENRY HENDRICKS AND CHILDREN

Many have been researching the Henry HENDRICKS family to learn more about the ancestors and descendants -- where they came from and where they lived. In the 1940s a HISTORY OF THE HENDRICKS FAMILY was written by Charles HENDRICKS and additions were made by others. There are questions about some of the statements in the History. This History tells the story of where we began as follows:

The HENDRICKS family were Dutch Huguenots having come to America from Holland. One branch settled in Hanover County, Virginia, in the year 1620. Another branch, Henry HENDRICKS, came to this country from Holland in the year 1685 locating in New Jersey and later moving to Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. In Westmoreland County records of the descendants of this first Henry HENDRICKS have been found.

Among the descendants is another Henry HENDRICKS who was born in Berk County, New Jersey, about 1765. [There is no Berk County, New Jersey. Current day researchers believe Henry could have been born in Berks or Bucks County, Pennsylvania.] According to the 1940s History, Henry is listed in the 1779 Census in Montgomery County, New Jersey. [There is no Montgomery County, New Jersey. Again, this could have been Pennsylvania.] Sometime after 1779 the family moved to Pennsylvania according to the History.

The History does leave us with some questions about exactly where our progenitor, Henry, was born. Charles, the author, was born in 1876 and died in 1964. Henry was his great grandfather. Charles would have been telling the story as told to him by his father and grandfather.

The History does tell us that Henry was the father of four sons: Peter, William, Jacob, and Samuel. No daughters are mentioned in the History, but HENDRICKS researchers have suspected that there could have been daughters. From information I have found, I also believe there were daughters.

The Federal Census records of 1810 show that Henry HENDRICKS lived in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, and that he was 45 or over. This would indicate that Henry was born in 1765 as the History states. Henry's household consisted of a female 45 & over -- his wife; two male children -- one age 10-16, [Jacob], and one under age 10, [Samuel]. There was also a female under age 10, [Catherine].

In the 1820 Census Henry still lived in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, with his wife. No children lived in the household. In the 1830 Census Henry and his wife were age 60-70 and living in Fairfield Township, Columbiana County, Ohio. Charles' History tells us that William, Henry's son, went to Beaver Township from Fairfield Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, in 1825 and that Peter and Jacob probably went there at the same time. Henry and his wife evidently left Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, with their sons and settled in Fairfield Township between 1820 and 1830.

Until 1997 Henry's wife's name was a mystery to some of us researching the family. In 1996 I "met" Lia (Trowbridge) Hood of New Paris, Indiana, a descendant of Peter, through the postal service. Lia learned through the Internet system of a Peter descendant, Connie (Williams) Kuykendall of Hillsboro, Oregon. Through Connie I "met" Harold and Pauline Lange of Lakewood, California. Harold, a descendant of Peter, had Bible records given to him by his mother showing that Henry's wife was Elizabeth KONIGIN.

We now know that Henry and Elizabeth had four sons and at least one daughter -- from the 1940s History and Census records -- and that they lived in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania and moved to Fairfield Township, Columbiana County, Ohio.

Henry does not appear in the 1840 Census which seems to indicate that he died between 1830 and 1840. He would have been over age 65. I have not located his burial site. The Lange data indicates that his widow, Elizabeth, remarried Jonas T. RILEY September 24, 1837. I did not find this marriage recorded at the Columbiana County, Ohio, courthouse. I did not find a burial site for RILEY in the Columbiana County cemetery records Index. Elizabeth would have been over 60 at the time of her second marriage according to Census records.

In 1996 I received from a member of the Columbiana County Chapter of the Ohio Genealogical Society a page printed from a book titled Condensed History of the DONNALLEY Family. The source and date of this History are unknown at this time. It has been determined from the text that the History was published after 1893. The last two paragraphs of the History are quoted as follows:

"The wife of Jesse DONNALLEY Sr. was Mary HENDRICKS, the daughter of Henry HENDRICKS who came to this country from Germany. She had one sister and 4 brothers. The HENDRICKS family came to this county from Westmorland (sic) Co., Pa. The sister married Arthur Galloway, and died many years since in Stark Co., Ohio.

"Two of the brothers emigrated to Indiana; one to Seneca Co., Ohio, where he died and one died in Mahoning Co., several years since. Of the Indiana branch of the HENDRICKS Family, Thomas HENDRICKS late Vice President of the U.S. is said to have been a blood relative."

One of Henry's sons, Samuel, did immigrate to Indiana from Seneca, Williams, and Paulding Counties, Ohio, to DeKalb County, Indiana where he died. Peter moved to Seneca County, Ohio, from Columbiana County. He then died in Marshall County, Indiana, where some of his children were living. Two of the sons, William and Jacob, lived and are buried in Mahoning County, Ohio. The sister mentioned who married Arthur GALLOWAY is probably Catherine. Columbiana County, Ohio, marriage records show that Catherine HENDRICKS married _____ GALLOWAY June 10, 1824. This is the same date that Jacob married Susannah GALAWAY/GALLOWAY in Columbiana County, Ohio. The information in the Condensed History of the DONNALLEY Family matches facts about Henry's sons and daughter too closely to be a coincidence.

Other researchers of the HENDRICKS family believe as stated above that the Vice President was from this HENDRICKS family but no one has proven this link at this printing.

Mary HENDRICKS DONNALLEY/DONNELLY (1783-1872)

Mary was born in Pennsylvania in 1783. If Henry were born in 1765 (and that year could be off by a year or so), Henry would have been 18 years old. Mary would have been Henry's first-born child.

Mary and Jesse DONNALLEY were married in 1811 in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania. Henry's son, William, married in 1811 in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania. The DONNALLEYS moved to Ohio, Fairfield and Elkrun Townships, Columbiana County in 1828 from Fayette County, Pennsylvania. Jesse was born July 22, 1780, and died September 6, 1871, in Elkrun Township. Jesse was in the War of 1812. In 1872 Mary filed a Pension Application. Mary died May 2, 1872. The DONNALLEYS are buried at Church Hill Christian Church Cemetery in Elkrum Township.

Their children were: Elizabeth, Mary Ann, John, Charles D., Catharine, Esther, Jesse D., Sidney, and James K.

Peter HENDRICKS (1789-1866)

Peter was born in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, September 21, 1789. [The year of his birth raises the question whether other children were born to Henry and Elizabeth after Mary's birth in 1783 and before Peter's in 1789.] Peter married Elizabeth HAZEN/HAAS October 29, 1816, in New Britain Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, as recorded in the Bucks County Newspaper Marriage Notices (1804-1934). The newspaper notice recorded her surname as HAAS. Harold Lange of Lakewood, California, a descendant of Peter, has a copy of Peter's Bible. The records were written in German and the pages were cut from a German Bible. Peter's wife's surname was recorded as HAZEN in these records. Elizabeth was born July 23, 1793 in Pennsylvania.

Peter and Elizabeth sold land in the Township of New Britain, County of Bucks, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to Christain Bartels March 9, 1821. This same land was acquired by Peter from his brother, William and his wife Catherine, March 31, 1818. The History written by Charles HENDRICKS states Peter went to Beaver Township from Fairfield Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, around 1825 and Peter was a prominent citizen of Beaver Township, Ohio, in 1830 where he lived in District 3. [Beaver Township was part of Columbiana County until 1846 when Mahoning County was organized.] According to the History of Columbiana County (Mack, 1879), Peter is named as a freeholder living in Beaver Township in 1830 on Sections 19, 30, 31, and 32, District 6. The History of Seneca County Ohio (Warner, Beers & Co.) shows that Peter was an original purchaser of land formed by a majority of pioneers of the county in Bloom Township on September 9, 1833 (S. $\frac{1}{2}$ N.W. $\frac{1}{4}$ sec. 24). Bloom Township, Seneca County tax records show that in 1840 and 1841 Peter owned 80 acres plus horses and cattle. The Bloom Township, Seneca County Census records show: 1850, Peter, age 60, b. Pennsylvania, farmer, value of property \$7,500; Elizabeth, age 50, b. Pennsylvania, and children: Samuel, 24, b. Ohio, laborer; Rachael, 21, b. Ohio; Elizabeth, 19, b. Ohio; Maria, 16, b. Ohio. 1860, Peter, age 70, farmer, b. Pennsylvania; Elizabeth, 66, b. Pennsylvania.

Peter died July 14, 1866, in Marshall County, Indiana. His will was written January 13, 1863, in Seneca County, Ohio, and probated in Indiana. Henry, his son, swore under oath it was the genuine handwriting of Peter HENDRICKS. Peter is probably buried in Marshall County, Indiana. I do not have Elizabeth's death date.

Peter and Elizabeth's children were: Henrich/Henry, Catharine/Rebecca Catherine, Johannes/John, Maria/Mary A., Samuel K., Rachel, Elizabeth, and Jacob. One source of the children's names is from Peter's Bible.

William G. HENDRICKS (1791-1862)

William G. was born in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, January 18, 1792. He married Catharine DETWILER June 2, 1811, in Abbington Township, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania. According to Charles' History, William went to Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania in 1819 and to Ohio in 1824. William went to Beaver Township from Fairfield Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, in 1825. George Hoke [an early and noteworthy settler and trustee in 1813 in Beaver Township] sold William 13 acres in Sec. 21 and 28 in Beaver Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, in 1826. This land lay in the section about one mile south of East Lewistown, Ohio. William sold this land to Chris Schultz in 1830. The publication History of Columbiana County (Mack, 1879) has a section, Fairfield Township, listing householders in 1828. "The inhabitants of District 8 embracing sections 27, 28, 33, 34 and the west half of 35 were, ... William HENDRICKS" According to Charles' History William was a prominent citizen of Beaver Township in 1830. He lived in District 6. William built a house or a log cabin where the present [in 1940s] E.N. Beardsley house now stands. He sold the remaining 135 acres of his original 215 acres to John Nold in 1841. John Nold [a freeholder on Sec. 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, District 3, Beaver Township, and laid out village lots in East Lewistown about 1830] sold William 85 acres in Beaver Township south of East Lewiston in 1841 so it may have been part payment on the sale William made to Nold. Catharine, William's wife, was a relative of the Detwiler's of Beaver Township. [At present time a Detwiler fruit farm and a Detwiler road are located near Columbiana, Ohio.] William's son, Jacob Detwiler, was a trustee in Beaver Township in 1850 and clerk from 1851-1857. Jacob D.'s son, George Washington (W.G.), was the clerk in 1863 and 1865-1870.

The 1879 History has a section about Green Township which states:

"Two hundred acres of the northwest quarter of Sec. 24 were bought quite early by William HENDRICKS from a man who lived 'on the other side of the mountains.' ... A Baptist church and a burying-ground are situated on the north west corner of Sec. 24."

The publication Bicentennial of Beaver Township (1976), Early Homes and Architecture of Beaver Township, describes a home, Belle Vista Farm, located at 12300 New Buffalo Road, owned in 1976 by Wade and Ruth Wehr. "William was one of the first owners. He was known to the community as a distinguished gentleman of German descent. Many lovely parties were held in the house, with a variety of guests, and Mr. Hendricks enjoyed playing the violin for them." The article goes on to describe the "charming Colonial house" in detail.

The Index to Deeds, Columbiana County Ohio Courthouse (1798-1897), shows William bought land from: George Hoke (1826), D. McArthur (1832), Abraham Eckert (1834), John Nold (1841), Allan S. Way (1852), and Charles F. Roth (1865). (William died in 1862, so this last transaction is in question.) William sold land to: John Nold (1841), Christian Shelley (1831), Michael Shank (1833) and Jacob D. (his son) (1837).

William G. died October 4, 1862, at 70 years, 9 months, and 16 days. From The Mahoning Herald Dispatch of Canfield, Mahoning County, Ohio, October 23, 1862, his obituary states: "Father H. during his last illness was attended with intense pain and suffering, exhibited great fortitude and resignation. ... Mr. H. was a good man and a most excellent citizen." Catharine was born in 1785 and died in 1867 at 85 years, 4 months. William and Catharine are buried at Locust Grove Cemetery, Route 165, Greenford, Mahoning County, Ohio.

Their children were: Jacob Detwiler, John F., Maria, Joel Emanuel, and Henry.

Jacob H. HENDRICKS (1797-1882)

The genealogy of Jacob H. and his descendants follows in detail.

Samuel King HENDRICKS (1800-1873)

This information comes from a 1983 history of this family compiled by two of Samuel's descendants, Georgene G. (Morris) Sones of Nebraska and Lloyd J. HENDRICKS of Colorado.

Samuel King was born August 31, 1800, in Pennsylvania. Some documents give his birth year as 1798, but Census records, his tombstone, and other sources indicate 1800 as being the correct year. Samuel married Martha PRICHARD in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, in 1830.

"Samuel and Martha are first found in the 1840 Census of Columbiana County, Fairfield Township, Ohio: 1 male under age 5, 1 male 5-10, 1 male 30-40, 2 females under 5, 1 female 5-10, 1 female 20-30. In 1850 they were residing in Seneca County, Bloom Township, Ohio next door to Peter HENDRICKS and his family but we have not been able to establish a relationship. The 1850 Census lists: Samuel K., age 50, laborer, b. Pennsylvania; Martha, age 41, b. Pennsylvania; George J., 16, laborer, school, b. Ohio; Joel William, 14, school, b. Ohio; Eliza M., 12, school, b. Ohio; Henry O., 8, school, b. Ohio; Salthiel P., 7, school, b. Ohio; Maria C., 4, b. Ohio; Martha J., 2, b. Ohio. In 1860 the family lived in Williams County, Ohio. The family apparently lived in Paulding County, Ohio for a time. A deed was recorded [in Paulding County] on October 7, 1852 for 80 acres in the East $\frac{1}{2}$ of the SW $\frac{1}{2}$ S20 T3N R3E. In 1870 they lived in DeKalb County, Indiana."

Samuel died May 13, 1873, near Waterloo, DeKalb County, Indiana. His death notice from The Waterloo Press dated May 15, 1873 reads:

"Sudden Death. On Tuesday evening last, Mr. S.K. HENDRICKS, who lived a short distance west of town, went out to hunt his cow. Not returning at the proper time, the family instituted a search, and found his dead body a few rods from the house. Deceased was over 70 years old, and had been in apparent good health up to the time of his death."

Martha remarried C. David GARDNER on October 24, 1875 in DeKalb County, Indiana. She died April 1, 1892, in Franklin County, Nebraska. Her death date has also been given as March 24, 1893.

Their children were: Mary E., George Jacob, Joel William, Eliza Margaret, Sarah Jane, Andrew C. Edwin, Henry Oliver, Salathiel Pritchard, Mariah Catherine, Martha Jane, Samuel Sylvester, and Emanuel David.

Catherine HENDRICKS (ca. 1802-)

The Condensed History of the DONNALLEY Family states that Mary HENDRICKS DONNALLEY had a sister who married Arthur GALLOWAY and that she died in Stark County, Ohio. The year of her death was not given nor children's names. Catherine and Arthur married the same day as Jacob H. and Susannah GALAWAY/GALLOWAY according to Columbiana County, Ohio, marriage records -- June 10, 1824. A search will be made to find the GALLOWAYS and their descendants.

OTHER HENDRICKS

Charles HENDRICKS' 1940s History states: "We find James TOWNSEND sold Mary HENDRICKS twenty acres in section 14 in Goshen Township about five miles West of Greenford, Ohio in the year 1817. This completes our record of both the land and Mary HENDRICKS." Charles does not indicate the relationship of Mary to Henry. I believe Charles found the deed of sale recorded at the Columbiana County courthouse and did not know if there was a relationship. HENDRICKS researchers have thought that Mary could have been Henry's wife. Peter's Bible records show Henry's wife was Elizabeth KONIGIN.

In 1997 I found reference to James TOWNSEND, b. 1793, and wife, Martha HENDRICKS, b. 1796, who were Quakers living in Goshen Township until 1830 when they moved to Schoolcraft, Michigan, Kalamazoo County. (Source: Columbiana County Chapter, OGS, newsletter, Connection.)

On September 8, 1830, James appointed Richard RICHARDSON of Centre Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, "my true and lawful attorney" to sell land, south half of the northeast quarter and the north half of the northwest quarter of Sec. 20, Twp. 16, Range 4. On September 9, 1830, James sold to Samuel GIBBONS land in Goshen Township -- southeast quarter of Sec. 14, Twp. 17, Range 4.

James was also involved with others in buying land in Goshen Township for Society of Friends' schoolhouses. (Sec. 26, Twp. 17, Range 4 and Sec. 23, Twp. 17, Range 4)

According to An Index to the Minutes of New Garden Monthly Meeting 1808-1832 (Coffman, 1989, p. 109-110), the TOWNSENDS were members. They transferred from Salem Monthly Meeting to New Garden. When the Hicksite Monthly Meeting was formed in Salem, they transferred back. James was listed as elder in 1828. Martha was listed as his wife. His sons were: Abel J. or T., Benjamin G., Gilbert, Nathan H.; daughters, Eve S. or Evi S., Lydia B. or A., and Mary Ann.

According to Marriages, Kalamazoo Co. MI, 1831-1852 (Ruth Robbins Montheith, Vol. 1) Mary Ann married Foster STILLWELL Aug. 30, 1835, by Thaddeus Smith, JP; Benjamin C. married Jane STILLWELL Aug. 13, 1837, by Alanson Beals, JP; James H. [another son?] married Cynthia A. STILLWELL June 23, 1837, by A.J. Shaver, JP. [James & Martha moved to Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo Co. MI in 1830.] The 1850 Census, Kalamazoo Co., Schoolcraft Twp., MI, shows: Nathan H. TOWSEND, age 36, b. OH; Cynthia, 30, b. MI [as their children were], Louisa, 11, Harris, 9, Albert, 8, Lucinda, 7, Mary A., 5, Adaline, 3, Emaline, 1; Henry, 18, b. MI, and Erum, 20, b. OH.

A marriage record for Jacob HENDRICKS and Nancy SMITH is recorded in Columbiana County, OH, February 3, 1825, by Joshua Chandler, JP. This Jacob HENDRICKS was the brother of Martha HENDRICKS TOWNSEND. According to the Kalamazoo County, Michigan, Probate Records, 1831-1857, Jacob died approximately December 27, 1834. The petition was filed by Mary HENDRICKS, widow, who signed her name Nancy HENDRICKS and James TOWNSEND, brother-in law of deceased.

According to Columbiana County, Ohio, marriage records, Ann HENDRICKS married Richard RICHARDSON (James's lawyer) October 10, 1820.

The Mary HENDRICKS in Goshen Township bought the land from James TOWNSEND in 1817. Henry and his sons did not arrive in Ohio until after 1820 according to Charles' History and did not settle in Goshen Township. The question is: Were Mary, Martha, Jacob, and Ann from our HENDRICKS family? Possibly they were cousins to Mary, Peter, William, Jacob, Samuel, and Catherine.

This concludes what I know about Henry HENDRICKS and his children: Mary, Peter, William, Samuel, and Catherine. Due to gaps between years of their births, Henry might have had more children. A descendant from the William line wrote that a researcher found a son, Thomas. Thomas lived in Lisbon. He had a disagreement with his father, saddled his horse and said he was going out West; they never heard from him again. Thomas wasn't listed as a son in Charles' History, but maybe after the disagreement he wasn't spoken of as part of the family. Someone told me that years ago daughters were not recorded in family histories. There could be more girls to fill in the birth-year gaps.

Jacob H. Hendricks (1797-1882)

Jacob H. was born in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, November 3, 1797. Jacob's parents were Henry and Elizabeth (KONIGIN) HENDRICKS. Jacob was married to Susannah GALAWAY/GALLOWAY June 10, 1824 in Columbiana County, Ohio, by Abraham Fox, JP. Susannah's surname was spelled GALAWAY in the Columbiana County marriage records, but it is thought that the spelling should have been GALLOWAY. Susannah was born February 11, 1791, in Loudoun County, Virginia.

According to Charles HENDRICKS' 1940s History, Jacob went to Beaver Township from Fairfield Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, around 1825. A deed dated June 11, 1825, shows that John JAMES sold land to Jacob HENDRIX in Township 12, Section 29, Range 2. Township 12 is Fairfield Township. Jacob HENDRIX bought more land from John JAMES shown in a deed dated July 11, 1829, in the same area. On April 12, 1839 Jacob and Susan HENDRICKS sold this land to David DAROADS. This deed information does not explain the statement in Charles' History that Jacob went to Beaver Township in 1825.

The History of Columbiana County, Ohio, (Mack, 1879), -- Fairfield Township Householders in 1828 shows that Jacob was an inhabitant of school District No. 9, embracing sections 29, 30, 31, and 32.

Sarah, Jonathan, and Arthur GALLOWAY were also inhabitants of District 9. These names lead researchers to believe that Susannah was related to these GALLOWAYS. Sarah could have been her mother. The probate papers dated 1817 of David GALLOWAY (d. 1816), Maddison (sic) Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, mentions Sarah (his wife?). Jacob married Susannah the same day Catherine HENDRICKS married Arthur GALLOWAY in Columbiana County.

Asa and Eli HOLLOWAY also were inhabitants of District 9. Jacob and Susannah named two of their children Asa and Eli. One HENDRICKS researcher believes Susannah had a previous marriage for these reasons: (1) nothing can be found in records about Susannah prior to her marriage to Jacob and (2) Susannah had her first child to Jacob at age 34.

According to Colleen Peyton (1995) Jacob owned farmland and on one Census record was listed as a shoemaker. Willard W. Hendricks, Jacob's grandson, remained on Jacob's land and raised Shetland ponies. Charles H. was Willard's father. Paul Miller Hendricks and Robin

Will Hendricks, Willard's grandsons, now live on the property on Leffingwell Road, Mahoning County, Canfield, Ohio. The location of the original farmhouse is now the parking lot for Diamond Back Golf Course, 9399 Leffingwell Road. In 1996 Paul gave his daughter, Paula (Hendricks) Switalski, some of the farmland once owned by Jacob.

Census records in 1840, Green Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, for Jacob and household show: Males, aged 30-40 (Jacob), 10-15 three (Samuel, Eli, John H.), 5-10 two (Asa, Charles); Females, aged 40-50 (Susannah), 10-15 one (Mary), 5-10 one (Ellen), under 5 one (Sarah).

Beaver, Goshen, Green, Smith and Springfield Townships formed a part of the county of Columbiana from its organization, in 1803, until the erection of Mahoning County, Ohio, February 16, 1846, when they became a part of the latter. (Source: History of Columbiana County, 1879)

In 1850, Green Township, Mahoning Co, Ohio, Jacob was age 52, a farmer, born in Pennsylvania; Susannah, 57, born Loudoun Co., Virginia; Children born in Ohio: Asa, 20; Mary, 23; Charles, 18, laborer; Eleanor (Ellen), 16; Sarah, 14.

In 1860, Canfield, Beaver/Green Township, Mahoning County, Ohio: Jacob was 60, a farmer with value of real estate $1,000, value of personal property $500, born Pennsylvania; ?Mary, 58, born Pennsylvania, housekeeper; Mary, 29, daughter, born Ohio; Ellen, 25, daughter, born Ohio; Sarah, 20, daughter, born Ohio.

In 1870, Beaver Township, Mahoning County, Ohio: Jacob, 72, shoemaker, value of real estate $1,200, born Pennsylvania; Susannah, 79, retired from housekeeping, born Virginia; Mary, 43, housekeeper, born Ohio; Eleanor (Ellen), 26, assistant housekeeper, born Ohio; Almyra (granddaughter), 13, school.

In 1880, Beaver Township, Mahoning County, Ohio: Jacob, 82, shoemaker, born Pennsylvania; Mary, 50, daughter, keeping house, born Ohio; Ellen, 48, daughter, at home, born Ohio; Elmira, 23, grandchild, at home, born Ohio.

Susannah died April 21, 1876. Jacob died January 1, 1882. They are buried at Locust Grove Cemetery, Route 165, Greenford, Mahoning County, Ohio.

Their children were: Samuel, Mary, Eli, John H., Asa H., Charles H., Ellen, and Sarah H.

This book is a record of the descendants of Jacob H. and Susannah (GALAWAY/GALLOWAY) HENDRICKS.

Top: Locust Grove Baptist Church, Rt. 165, Greenford, OH, Mahoning Co. David & Lydia (Roller) Calvin sold two acres of their farm to Locust Grove Baptist Association for the church and cemetery on March 6, 1847. The cemetery is sometimes called "Calvin."

Excerpt from a letter Susan (Kannal) Hendricks, wife of Robin Will Hendricks, wrote to Colleen Peyton in the early 1990s. Jacob was Robin's great great grandfather.

"We live just up the road from the original farm, probably $\frac{1}{4}$ mile, out in the country. After Robin's grandmother, Clara, died, (and, of course, his father) Janet, Robin, and his brother, Paul, all lived at the farm and took care of Willard until he died. [descendants of Charles, Jacob's son] After Willard's death, part of the farm was sold, including the farmhouse, to a group planning to form a country club. The farmhouse was used as the clubhouse for a number of years until a new one was built. When Robin & I were first married, we talked about moving the farmhouse (they would have given it to us if we moved it) to our property. But the inside was such a mess, we decided against it and built our own house. They finally burned it. ... It was a big old, beautiful 1800s farmhouse. I do have a wonderful painting of it that Robin's father did."

*Samuel & Elizabeth were married by Pastor Gottlieb Kranz, pastor Good Hope Evangelical Church, 1857-1861.

-- History of Columbiana Co., 1926, Hiram S. Hendricks biography.

*Samuel & Elizabeth were natives of Mahoning Co. where they spent their entire lives. He was a teaming contractor and worked between Beaver Falls & Pittsburgh, PA with a six-horse team. He followed farming and owned a well-improved farm of 70 acres. They had 2 sons, Hiram S. & John, a farmer, living near Salem. [Daughters were not mentioned.]

-- LDS Family History.

*Probably Elizabeth's parents: Abraham Baer/Bear married Anna Hoover 5/16/1820, Rockingham Co., Harrisonburg, VA [two entries, Abraham's name spelled Bare & Bear]; Anna's name Hoover in marriage record and Hoobler on Elizabeth's death certificate. Abraham's name spelled Baer on Elizabeth's death certificate; her son was John "Baer" Hendricks.

-- Pearl Hendricks Ross Kline, October 1995.

*Pearl, granddaughter of Elizabeth Baer Hendricks, remembers seeing Elizabeth one time -- probably when Pearl was about age 5. This was before Pearl was taken by her mother to Boulder, CO where she lived with a maternal aunt until age 15. Elizabeth was in a wheelchair according to Pearl. Hiram S., son of Elizabeth, had a granddaughter Pearl's age. They both had long hair. Elizabeth braided both girls' hair.

Samuel died in 1864. His first wife, Sarah Miller, died in 1858 in childbirth with their fifth child six years prior to his death. They had an infant born in 1851 die in 1851. Three children survived Sarah -- Laura, Martha, and Almira.

Samuel remarried, Elizabeth Baer, in 1859 -- one year after Sarah died. Elizabeth became the stepmother of Laura, 7 years old; Martha, 5 years old; Almira, 3 years old.

Samuel & Elizabeth had their first child, Lucinda, in February 1860. In June 1860 Martha died, three months before her sixth birthday.

In 1861 Samuel & Elizabeth had a son, Hiram. In 1862 they had another son, John Baer, (my great grandfather) and in February 1864 they had a daughter, Harriet.

Samuel & Elizabeth now had six children -- two surviving from his marriage to Sarah and four to Elizabeth.

Samuel died April 7, 1864. His probate record is dated April 11, 1864. Harriet had just been born in February.

With Samuel's death in early 1864 Elizabeth was left with six children aged 12 years, 8, 4, 3, 2 and her last baby born in February. She was 27 years old.

That sixth child, Harriet, died in May -- 3 months and 20 days old.

I have found a short biography of their son, Hiram, which included a paragraph about Samuel and Elizabeth. Their existence seemed fairly profitable. He had a six-horse team, working as a teaming contractor, between Beaver Falls & Pittsburgh, PA. He owned a "well improved" farm of 70 acres. (Source: History of Columbiana County dated 1926)

Samuel's Probate Paper lists his property publicly sold April 27, 1864 -- a grand total of $149.33. A gray mare brought $51.50 and a light red cow brought $22.25 of that $149.33. I see no mention of the "well improved" farm of 70 acres he owned according to the History of Columbiana County publication.

The last two pages of the Probate Paper are very difficult to read but I have attempted and read it as follows:

"The deceased having left a widow and minor children, we set off to them the following property without appraising the same, as directed by statute.

1 spinning wheel, a stove, 1 family bible, their books not exceeding One Hundred dollars in value. 1 cow, 12 sheep, 95 lbs. flax, remaining apparel of deceased -- 3 beds, cooking utensils for the family.

The following articles were selected by the widow not exceeding One Hundred dollars in value -- hot table iron, one cupboard, one sickle, _____ pigs, _____, one clock, _____ one oil can, one coffee kettle, _____, washboard, ten _____ with _____, _____ with sack, two sacks, hot _____, breakfast table, cheese crocks, _____ rake, pitchfork, _____, _____.

The following is a schedule of property & belonging to the estate of Samuel Hendricks, deceased set off by the undersigned for the support of Elizabeth Hendricks, his widow and Laura Hendricks, Almira Hendricks, Lucinda Hendricks, Hiram Hendricks, John Hendricks and Harriet Hendricks his surviving children.

75 lbs. flour	$2.62
40 lbs. bacon	$6.00
30 lbs. soap	$2.40
1/2 bbl. salt	$1.50
1/4 kegg pickles75

(The blanks in the above paragraph are unreadable in the probate paper.)

Also cash, there being no other property of a suitable kind $136.73 $150.00"

In the 1870 Census, six years after Samuel died, Elizabeth was still living in Patmos, OH (where Samuel was living when he died) with her children only -- Lucinda, Hiram, and John. Her mother was also living with them. Laura, one of the two surviving children to Samuel's first wife, went to live with Charles and Mary (Templin) Hendricks until her marriage to Francis Gibbons at age 19. Charles was Samuel's brother. Almira lived with her grandfather, Jacob H.

Thirty-four years after Samuel's death the Salem City Directory dated 1898-99 shows Elizabeth Hendricks, widow of Samuel, living at 46 E. Green in Salem, OH. In 1906-07 she was living at 121 Dry St., Salem, OH -- the same address as her son, Hiram. This was 42 years after Samuel's death.

Elizabeth died in 1910 -- 46 years after Samuel's death. She was 73 years old.

House on Edward Gibbons
farm, Goshen Road

EARLY MORNING SUNDAY FIRE.

Philip Butler's Home on Goshen Road Destroyed.

CAUGHT FROM KITCHEN FIRE

Defective Flue Being the Occasion.

Most of the Furniture, as Well as Provisions, Consumed—The Family
Found Shelter With Neighbors.

The large frame dwelling house on the Ed Gibbons farm, two miles north of Salem, on the Goshen road, owned and occupied by Philip Butler and wife, was entirely consumed by fire early Sunday morning. The fire originated from a defective flue, and while the house was insured and the greater part of the contents were saved, the loss will reach several hundred dollars.

Shortly after building the kitchen fire about 5 o'clock Sunday morning Mr. Butler started for the barn, when he discovered that the upper part of the house in the vicinity of the chimney was all ablaze. He at once summoned assistance from neighbors and attempted to extinguish the flames, but the fire spread rapidly and no facilities were at hand with which to fight the fire. The family and neighbors devoted their energies to saving the contents, and got all the furniture and other property out with the exception of a bedroom suite and a quantity of bedding on the second floor, a part of the kitchen furniture and the provisions in the cellar, all of which was destroyed.

The house was an eight-roomed residence, and its destruction left the occupants without shelter. They went to the home of Wesley Ovington, a brother of Mrs. Butler, who lives two miles north of the Butler home. Neighbors cared for their families.

Indian Arrowheads In Collection

Roy Rupright (inset at right) of 1211 E. Fourth St. has been collecting Indian flint arrowheads and spearheads since he was 13. His collection, part of which is shown above, now numbers 97 flints.

At the bottom of the picture is a buckskin pouch and knife carried by his grandfather in the California gold rush of 1849. Rupright remembers his father telling how the grandfather, William Rupright, returned from California to their home in Cornersburg, O., with the pouch full of gold and hid it in the chimney by pulling the stove pipe out. A heavy watch chain and necklace were made from the gold.

June was affected with epilepsy. She was employed by the Salem China Co. at the same time Merle M. Wright was an employee. I can remember two occasions when June had seizures and Merle was able to care for her due to his Navy medical training. On one occasion as the office employees were leaving work at the end of the day snow was falling. Everyone became playful throwing snowballs. June had a seizure. I feel very certain that Merle, my father, never knew June was his relation. June's father, Clarence, and Merle were second cousins. June's death was attributed to drowning in the bathtub while having a seizure.

Located on the northeast corner of Second St. & Lundy Ave. in 1909 was Lemuel Fawcett's Greenhouse. Dave Fogg lived on the southeast corner. On the southwest corner in the 1920s, was the residence and car agency of Fred Gibbons. He sold Durant & Star cars - about 200 a year. Behind this corner, at one time, was Cochran's livery stable where farmers kept their horses while in town shopping.

Automobiles were unique in the early 1900s and so people were eager to pose for photographs. This photo was taken the spring of 1911 in front of 146 East Main Street. Preparing for an afternoon of friendly competition on the Pleasant View Golf Course in Paris in September are (from left) the Gibbons brothers foursome, Bruce, Dale, Raymond and Gordon — their ages total more than their total scores.

Gibbons brothers four vie in continuous golf tourney

AFOURSOME OF FOUR brothers is not a common sight on any golf course. When the four brothers' ages total more than 278 years, that is even more rare.

The Gibbons brothers get together several times a year at courses near their homes to try for a trophy — a leprechaun golfer. Dale had it until this year, when brother Raymond won it in a very contested round. It is all in fun, of course.

Bruce, father of four boys, one deceased, has seven grandchildren. Retired, he lives with his wife, Grace, near Rome, Ohio, where he also enjoys fishing. Bruce took up the sport of golf five or six years ago, but this year he shows a great improvement in his game. He made it tougher to beat him.

Dale, 72, lives with his wife, Frances, in Maple Heights, a suburb of Cleveland. He and Frances have been married 44 years. Dale says he played his first game of golf on July 4, 1945, while waiting for college classes to start in Helena, Montana. He said his game has gone downhill ever since. He has two pastel paintings in the Salem Historical Museum and one in the Salem Public Library. His paper models have been on display there for several months.

Raymond, 67, has a boy and girl and two grandchildren. He lives in Beloit with his wife, Evelyn. Dale says he got Raymond interested in golf many years ago, and has regretted it since Ray won the trophy last year.

Gordon, 65, and his late wife, Janet, had three boys and three girls, and 12 grandchildren. Recently retired, and having taken up golf only two years ago, Gordon gets a lot of free instruction from his brothers.

With the exception of the youngest, Ruth, all the members of the Gibbons family, including father, Brinton, and mother Ethel, attended Fourth Street School while living in Salem. Eldon, 82, oldest of the eight boys and two girls, was, perhaps the best known in Salem. He worked at the productions of the 1930s and 40s as a singer and dancer.

Eldon went into the Army in World War II. He was followed by Dale, who joined the Navy Seabees and served in the South Pacific. Then, Wilson joined the Navy and served in Hawaii. Bruce was next, going into the Army and serving in Japan with the Army of Occupation. Finally, Gordon entered the Army and also served in Japan.

This swinging leprechaun is the trophy passed around by the Gibbons brothers — Raymond Gibbons copped the prize this year in a much-contested tourney.

The Gibbons family has been well-represented in Salem almost since its beginning. Great grandfather, Edward J., located here from Beaver Falls, Penn. in 1846. Uncle Fred Gibbons was known for his auto dealership. Brinton worked for many years at the Bliss Company.

The roots of the Gibbons family go deep in the history of Salem, and a number of cousins still live here, including Dale Shaffer, Salem's historian.

P.S. Dale says he is looking forward to next year so he can win back the trophy.

Paper models shown

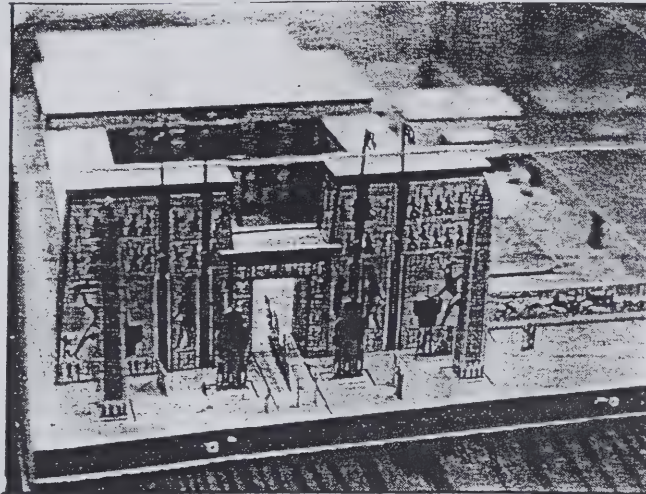

SALEM — Papercraft models featuring some of the most prominent buildings in the world are on display in the main reading room at the Salem Public Library.

The display includes: St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City, U.S. Capitol, Cinderella's castle, an Egyptian temple, the White House, Kremlin and Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris. Each model is created to exact scale and is authentic to the smallest detail.

They are the creations of Dale Gibbons of Maple Heights, the cousin of Salem historian Dale Shaffer.

"One cannot imagine the hours of painstaking work that went into creating these incredibly remarkable models," library Director George W.S. Hays said. "They are really unbelievable."

Gibbons began his papercraft hobby about 10 years ago. The models range in size from a few inches to about 2 feet. Each model is encased in a custom-made plexiglass and wood display case.

A papercraft model of an ancient Egyptian temple, built by Dale Gibbons, is now on display at the Salem Library. Other prominent buildings are also featured.

"Papercraft models teach patience," Gibbons said about his craft. "If you don't have patience, you learn it. If you have it, you lost it."

He said the hardest one to build was Notre Dame Cathedral. Despite its difficulty, the next model he plans to build is another cathedral.

The models are on display throughout the fall months. The library also displays a Gibbons' original pastel, "Salem Historical Museum Buildings," on the lower level. The pastel was donated to the library two years ago.

CO-WORKERS — The Salem Wire & Nail Mill closed in the 1920s after having operated since 1885. This photo from the early 1900s shows workers

Photo courtesy of Dale Shaffer manufactured all sizes of wire nails, and two shifts of workers, many of them women, produced 2,600 kegs of nails a day.

Flowers were thrown on the track, on the train, and to members of the funeral party to take to Marion as a tribute from Salem, and for placing on the President's bier. Remembering the McKinley funeral train that had passed through here 22 years before, older residents put pennies on the track to have as a remembrance of the event. Erma Gibbons Shaffer (my mother) was there, and her penny is now on display at the Salem Historical Museum

State Theater opened dream world in 1931

By Thelma Bradley

THE YEAR 1931 WAS A romantic one for me, a 19-year-old girl who walked across the street from a position as bank teller at the old Citizens Savings Bank to sell the first ticket from the booth at the newly decorated and glamorous State Theater.

Salem needed this happy place in those Depression times, and the people responded with smiling faces of appreciation for the luxurious and magnificent surroundings. They came every time the marquee changed.

Upon entering this land of make-believe, every doting mother imagined her little darling to be Shirley Temple, as she sang, tap danced and tossed her bouncing curls. Sonja Henie, dressed in her rose or purple velvet, fur-trimmed costumes, skating on glistening silver skates — yes, one could dream and feel like a star. Matinees were for those dear mothers, including my own, who entered the world of glamour for a few hours of pure magic.

Love was in the air for many joyous couples, first holding their favorite candy or munchies, and later holding each other's hands for hours of contented bliss. Emotions ran high. I know of several marriage proposals made in those ecstatic surroundings. My own culminated in a marriage in June to my sweetheart named Harold, whom I shared my love with for 60 years until his death in 1991.

Dick Powell and Don Ameche were the Don Juans and idols of that era. Buddy Rogers had his Mary Pickford, and that charmed couple lived in Pickfair. The chiseled face of John Barrymore always brought a full house. Eleanor Powell's tapping was the challenge of the time for children of all ages.

The popular song "I'm in Heaven" put everyone on the edge of tomorrow. Music for the graceful musicals ushered in the fabulous ballroom dance studios, with Dame Graham, Fred and Adele Astaire, Ginger Rogers and Arthur Murray. You felt you had finally reached paradise when Jeanette McDonald and Nelson Eddy sang their unforgettable duets. No, you were not out of this world — you were in the very best part of this one.

The following lines of poetry reflect the feelings of how I felt when the beautiful State Theater opened in 1931:

Romance and beauty — how much can you take, That's exactly what awaits you at the theater, the State.

It's regal, luxurious but I must tell you so, I'm reminiscing back to 1931, over 60 years ago

Shirley Temple sang and danced, and tossed her golden curls, Sonja Henie on silver skates challenged all the girls.

Dick Powell and Don Ameche, Don Juans of that age, Every young girl's idols, sometimes left them dazed.

Buddy Rogers had Mary Pickford, now who could ask for more, Well, if you ever wonder, how about John Barrymore?

Eleanor Powell and Ruby Keeler tapped their twinkling toes, While Fred and Ginger twirled up, down and around to their special "Anything Goes."

Nelson Eddy and Jeanette McDonald sang duets so crystal clear, The blending of those voices brought paradise so near.

I still thrill when I think of all those very special stars, And the beautiful State Theater, a special "Thanks" because it was ours.

ONE-ON-ONE/DALE SHAFFER

For this local historian, old news is good news

Q. How did you get started writing Salem history books?

A. In 1981, Salem had its first jubilee, and the editor of the Salem News asked me to write an article in the old Fourth Street School for the Salem Scrapbook. After that, he asked me to write a regular history column for the paper, so I began writing that column. Eventually, I accumulated enough material to put out a little book called, "Some Remembrances of Salem History." I continued writing and putting out books, each book getting larger and larger, until last year I published my 10th book on Salem history.

Q. What was the response to your first book?

A. It sold out. It was just a small book. I think it had five articles in it, and I thought that would be about it. But the material is never-ending. I have enough material that would keep me busy for the next 10 years, easily.

Q. What drives you to do this?

A. My purpose is really twofold. First of all, I want to bring Salem history alive to the present generation — make it live. Secondly, I want to preserve it for future generations. The unique thing about nonfiction, especially history, is that it is lasting and permanent. It never loses its importance.

Q. You seem very passionate about the past.

A. I think once it gets in your blood, you can't get it out. It's almost a compulsion. But it does allow me to live another lifetime. I can live in the past and actually share some of the accomplishments, some of the tragedies, some of the important events that happened in the past. It's like living in another lifetime.

Q. Were you taught at a young age to study history?

A. No. It actually happened when I came back to Salem, and I saw that there was so much history in Salem that hadn't been recorded, so many important events that happened here.

Q. Like what?

A. For example, the first gummed labels in the United States were printed here back in 1863.

[Artist: Charles] Burchfield's boyhood home was here. The first Ohio women's rights convention was held here in 1860. There were three routes on the Underground Railroad coming through Salem. And Salem was the western headquarters for the Anti-Slavery Society, and we published a paper called the Anti-Slavery Bugle here. We had the first nighttime high school football game in Ohio played here, under the lights in October 1929. Salem is a unique place. There's a lot of history here.

Q. How did Salem get its name?

A. Most people don't know about that. Salem was founded in 1806 by Zadok Street and John Straughan. The name comes from the word "Jerusalem," which means "city of peace." Of course there are many Salems throughout the country, and many of them started with the Zadok Street family. He had several children. One of them didn't stay in Salem. He went west and he's the one who is responsible for starting Salem, Tenn., Salem, Ore., Salem, Ind.

Q. Where do you get your information?

A. I use any source I can find. I talk to old-timers. I look at old newspapers, any historical documents I can find at the Salem Historical Society Museum. So much of it comes from piecing bits of information together.

Q. What do you like to write about?

A. I write about people. I write about buildings. I write about scenes. Events. Objects. For example, in terms of people, I'm interested in what they accomplished, and their tragedies in their life, how did they contribute to the development of Salem.

Q. Any interesting stories behind the city's buildings?

A. There are lots of stories. The Guernsey Block, up on Broadway, it's the Strauss building now. J. T. Twining Brooks built that and the one next to it. The other one is called the Wilbur Block, where the Goodwill store is. They're side by side.

Q. Aren't Guernsey and Wilbur two divisions of the old Friends religion?

A. That's right. He named those two buildings because that was the Friends block. The Friends Meeting House was directly back of them on Pershing Street, and the Friends cemetery was right there where he was going to build those two buildings. And so he had to dig up those bodies when he built them. This was 1871 by the way. Those buildings still stand today pretty much the way they were built.

Q. Any amusing stories about the people of Salem's past?

A. Well, I'll tell you a very important story about John Campbell. He was a 15-year-old boy in 1850. He and another boy, a friend of his, sneaked into that all-women's convention, and he heard these women talking about voting rights and suffrage. He was so impressed that later on he became the first governor of the territory of Wyoming and one of the first things he did was to pass women's rights laws giving the women of Wyoming the right to vote. And that's why the women of Wyoming were the first in our union to be able to vote.

Q. He sounds like an interesting man.

A. Yes, he was. He died at the age of 42. Incidentally, his brother was blinded at the age of 3 and later became the mayor of Youngstown. He graduated from Harvard and became the mayor of Youngstown.

Q. Why do you believe it's so important to preserve history?

A. It has to do with the development of our city. There are a lot of people who participated in the development of Salem and I think they deserve credit for what they did. If we don't have a sense of how yesterday affects today, I think it's almost impossible for us to have a strong sense of how today affects tomorrow, if that makes any sense.

Q. Do you consider yourself a historian?

A. To me, a historian is sort of a preserver. He serves a purpose: a society's memory to stop moment of history from passing and to capture them so they can be used in the future.

Q. So that would be you?

A. Well, I would be one of them. But not the only one. But it is satisfying to preserve something, that if you come back 50 years from now, there would still be this book.

Q. Have you ever thought of doing histories for other communities?

A. Yes. In fact I have written articles about North Georgetown, Hanoverton, Greenford, Columbiana, Washingtonville, different surrounding communities. But I find I'm spreading myself too thin because I'm not looking for material. I've got plenty of material on Salem yet to write. You've got to focus. I can't become an authority on Columbiana, somebody else can do that. But I can become some sort of an authority on Salem.

Q. What do you think your place will be in Salem's history?

A. Gee, I haven't given that much thought. My place will be that I recorded some important history, some important background information on the history of Salem that hopefully will be useful to future generations.

Hiram S. Hendricks, a representative citizen of Salem and Columbiana County, was born on a farm in Beaver Township, Mahoning County, Ohio, Feb. 6, 1861, and is the son of Samuel and Elizabeth (Bare) Hendricks.

Both Samuel Hendricks and his wife were natives of Mahoning County, where they spent their entire lives. He was a teaming contractor and worked between Beaver Falls and Pittsburgh, Pa. with a six horse team. He also followed farming and owned a well improved farm of 70 acres. Mr. Hendricks died in 1865 and his wife died in 1912. They had two sons: Hiram S., the subject of this sketch; and John, a farmer, lives near Salem, Ohio.

Hiram S. Hendricks began life as a farmer. He attended the district schools of Beaver Township and at an early age operated a farm in Columbiana County. In 1891 he removed to Salem, where he has since resided. He has had various business connections in this city and is now identified with the Justice Manufacturing Company.

In 1883 Mr. Hendricks was united in marriage with Miss Emma Popel, a native of this county. To them two daughters were born: Nora, married George Dawson, lives at Portland, Ore.; and Elizabeth, deceased.

Mr. Hendricks is independent in politics. He holds membership in the English Lutheran Church and is highly esteemed in the community, in which he lives.

His sisters, Betty and Emily Wright, are mentioned in the records.

They joined forces to open washing machine factory

By Dick Wootten

THE IDEA OF THROWING away a scrub board and buying an automatic washing machine delighted Americans in 1920 and four Salemites knew it.

So, they decided to pool their money and go into the washing machine business.

The fledgling Justice Machine Company, located in a now-raised wooden building on Penn St. (now Penn Avenue), was started as the Camele Machine Company in 1922 by a group of local men. On Nov. 23, 1923 another group took over the company. They included Andrew Beall, ~~Harry Hendricks~~ Jimmy Partlow and Frank Moffet.

Also, joining the new company was Emery Castle, who had been in the automobile business with Andrew Beall on Filbert Street, behind the present City Hall location.

"My Dad and Castle sold new cars," recalled Leo Beall, 83, of Salem. "They sold cars whose name a lot of people don't even remember. They sold Briscoes, Saxons, Clevelands, and Chandlers." Leo Beall remembers starting to work at the washing machine company part time after school in 1925. After he graduated from Salem High in 1926, he worked there full-time delivering the washing machines.

"Jimmy Partlow and I would put four machines in a Model T Ford truck and put them in homes for people to try out for a week before they decided to buy them or not. We trusted everybody then.

"I remember a little lady in East Palestine who called us up to complain that the machine she was trying out wasn't working. Jimmy and I went out to visit her to find out the problem. She didn't quite understand how it worked. She had clothes in the tub piled a foot above the top," he laughed.

"The washing machine was well built and had a transmission like an automobile transmission. Originally they were going to make the machine with a gasoline engine. I don't know if they sold one with a gas engine or not. Then they switched to electric motors. At first the tubs were made of cypress wood. The wood was soaked to make them watertight," Beall recalled.

The 1923-24 issues of the Salem City Directory carried an ad for the wooden tubs. It read: "The Justice Electric Washing Machine embodying the best principle for the scientific washing of linens, drapery, curtains and the general family wash." It was called the dolly type corrugated cypress tub "priced and built for the multitude" for $75.

Another ad bragged that the machine could "wash clothes thoroughly in 20 minutes without tearing the finest fabrics."

Leo Beall said that in the late 1920s, the company started using copper tubs made for them by the Mullins Manufacturing Co. of Salem.

"Frank Moffet was a machinist, Harry Hendricks did assembly work, my Dad designed the transmissions. My Dad had earlier also been a machinist at the Buckeye Engine Co. Castle had been an electrician there. Jimmy Partlow worked as a salesman and I was his helper.

"They wouldn't go home at 4 or 5 in the afternoon, either. They would go home to dinner and return to work at night. They worked hard."

Although the machine was advertised as "built for the multitude," Leo Beall can't remember delivering any of them outside of Columbiana County.

"Maytag came out with a cheaper washing machine and the Justice Company could no longer compete. I think the company was in business for just about 10 years."

Leo's father left the company in 1931 to buy out the Briggs Battery and Transmission Co. located next door on Penn. The Penn Street Battery and Ignition Co. soon became the Beall Battery and Electric Service.

This 1886 drawing shows Penn Street as a largely residential area, with the only building dominating the City Mills building marked number 20 (bottom center). The only identifiable building today is the Mont Cook building which now houses Endres and Gross Flower Shop.

In 1951 the company moved to its present location at 788 E. Pershing. Leo Beall owns the business and his son, Richard, operates it.

1909-10 (Mary) Employed as teamster, 10C Hitching Barn, lived at 79
S. Howard; Mary's residence for the same years, boarded rear 104 Broadway. (Who are Minnie & William Hendricks who lived at 104 Broadway at the same time as Mary?) It was about this time that Mary took daughters, Pearl & Helen, to Boulder, Colorado to live with her sister, Anna Warner. John had an alcohol habit which probably contributed to the cause for the divorce.

1915-16 Lived 98 E. High St.; Teamster

1928 Lived at 110 E. High; Farmer

1937 Lived in Millville, OH outside of Salem at death

8/14/95 - Per Jocelyn Wilms, volunteer genealogist for the Probate Court, Youngstown, OH Mahoning Co., the birth certificate for John Baer Hendricks is not available. (OH records start 1867)

Application for Probate of Will of Mary Hendricks who died Oct. 10, 1903, daughter of Jacob H. Hendricks. Listed in Will:
John Hendricks, Nephew, P.O. Address Salem, OH.

10/95 - Told to Barbara Wright by Pearl Kline.

Pearl, John's daughter, returned to Salem, OH from Boulder, CO after WWI, about 1918. She was 16 years old. John was working on Abbie Sell's farm (could have been in the Winona, OH area because Merle Wright mentioned visiting a farm in his youth). John was living with Abbie and might have been married to her according to Pearl. Pearl stayed with them on the farm for two or three months in the summer and helped with the farm chores. John had rheumatism which made farm chores difficult. He milked the cows with his thumb and index finger due to the discomfort of his illness. Pearl volunteered to help with the chores which pleased her father -- probably the only time she really got to know him as a father. Pearl liked Abbie Sell very much and seemed pleased with the experience. (Ex-mayor Sell of Salem, OH was related to Abbie.) Pearl did not know where John is buried.

4/96 John was probably not married to Abbie Sell. She is buried in Grandview Cemetery in Salem, OH along with her husband.

Mary's grandson, Wayne Wright at age 12, was in the room at her son's home (Ed) while Mary was ill in bed. She told Wayne to get Aunt Rosie.
She then died.

*Mary's siblings (Poples):

- Albert was killed in a mine accident and maybe another brother too.
- Harry managed an A&P in Boulder, CO.
- Roger, the oldest, had a store in San Diego, CA.
- George, the youngest, taught at a business college in Chicago.
Pearl, Helen, and their mother visited George's apartment and had supper during a layover on their way to Colorado.
- Lou Drotleff & her husband, Harry, moved to Boulder, Colorado from Salem, OH. Lou had a farm and Harry had a creamery. They fed what could not be used in the creamery to the pigs on the farm.
Their children were: Ann, George, Jennis (male), and Ray. Ray had a Buick dealership in Denver, CO.
- Anna (Annie) Warner had a large boarding house she had built where college students stayed. They fed at least 45 people a day.
Pearl, Helen, and Edith (when she arrived in CO) worked for Annie and lived with her. Annie's husband worked for the railroad; went to work one day and never returned. They speculated that he went to do some gold mining.
- Pricilla, Emma. Hiram S., brother of John Baer, was married to a sister of Mary according to Pearl. The records show her name was Emma. Pearl thought her name was Pricilla.

Note: I have referred to Lou Drotleff's husband as Harry. Written records, i.e., obits, show his name as Simon. When talking to Pearl

"I studied the picture and sizewise it could be Grandma, but I cannot say for sure. [picture noted on back Grandma Hendricks] The last time I saw her was in Aunt Rosie's parlor (when Ed & Rosie were living on Pershing St. by Centennial Park). She was resting on the sofa and we kids were playing in the room. She called me over to her and asked me to tell Rosie that she needed her, there was a sense of urgency in her voice. I told Aunt Rosie she was wanted. Aunt Rosie sat beside her and they were talking as the kids and I went into the other room. Grandma felt this was her time to pass on and she was right. Rosie brought her comfort at that time I'm sure.

Mom told me Grandma could just about do anything and she told me of the time she set somebody's leg when he broke it working on the farm. I don't remember it, but Mom told me when I was a baby I would not eat and everyone had given up on me including the doctor. My Grandma came to the house to visit and saw me and said the only thing wrong with me was that I was starving to death. She fixed some mashed potatoes which she fed to me. She said I needed a more solid food and I had no problems after that. So I guess I can thank my Grandma for my being here today. Grandma wasn't very big but she made up for it in toughness which she was."

IN THE COUNTY COURT

MARY POPLER HENDRICKS,
Plaintiff

No. 5707

JOHN BEAR HENDRICKS,
Defendant

On this 24th day of November, 1911, the above entitled action coming on for trial and the plaintiff appearing in person and by her attorneys Reed, West & Goss, and it appearing to the Court that a copy of the summons in said action, together with a copy of the complaint therein thereto attached was delivered to, and left with, the defendant John Bear Hendricks personally in the County of Columbiana, in the State of Ohio, on the 16th day of September, 1911, by the sheriff of said County; that said defendant has been duly and legally summoned and served with process; that no answer, demurrer, or motion, has been filed herein by or on behalf of said defendant; and said defendant having failed to appear within the time required by law and this action having been regularly set for trial and the Court having heard the evidence and being fully advised in the premises, finds:

First: That the Court has jurisdiction of the parties to the action and the subject matter thereof.

Second: That the plaintiff is now and has been for more than one year immediately preceding the commencement of this action a bona fide resident and citizen of the County of Boulder and State of Colorado; that said residence and citizenship of said plaintiff has been proven by the testimony of one credible witness other than the plaintiff.

Third: That the plaintiff and defendant intermarried at Leetonia, Ohio, on the 3rd day of July, 1887 and ever since have been husband and wife.

Fourth: That said defendant has been guilty of extreme and repeated acts of cruelty towards said plaintiff and that, because of said cruelty and because of the fear of said plaintiff that said defendant would take her life, said plaintiff was compelled to leave, and was justified in leaving, said defendant and has been compelled to live separate and apart from said defendant and was justified in so doing; and that all the matters and things charged and alleged in said complaint are true.

WHEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED by the Court, that the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between the plaintiff and defendant be and the same are hereby dissolved forever, and that each of said parties is hereby released therefrom absolutely and forever; provided, that neither of said parties shall intermarry with any other person until the expiration of one year from and after this date.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that said plaintiff shall have the custody and control of Edith Elizabeth Hendricks, Hiram Sylvester Hendricks, Pearl Agnes Hendricks and Helen Harriett Hendricks, the minor children of said parties, until said children respectively attain the age of twenty-one years.

Done in open court the day and year first above written.

By the Court

E.J. Ingram,
Judge.

I, Alma S. Morrill, Clerk of County Court in and for the County of Boulder, in the State of Colorado, and as such Clerk the custodian of the files and records of said Court, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of the Reader identifies Burchfield drawing site

-99-

By Dick Wootten

WHEN GEORGE FRONK, 87, a resident at Copeland Oaks, saw the Burchfield drawing of an unidentified building in the March 2 issue of Yesteryears he said, "It just jumped out at me."

Fronk says the building was on the site of the present Shaffer's Salem Autorama car dealership on the west side of South Broadway opposite Columbia Street in Salem.

"I was a kid going to Columbia Street School and I used to go to a grocery store in that building to buy penny candy," he recalled. "The color green sticks out in my mind so I think at least part of the building was green. Of course that was about 80 years ago, about 1912."

Fronk said he thinks there may have been a rooming house upstairs. The circular decorations on the surface of the building between the second and third floors also looked familiar, he said.

The address of the present Autorama is 339 South Broadway. Salem historian Dale Shaffer said Salem's address system changed in 1928. He has a record showing old addresses and their equivalent new addresses. The current address of 339 South Broadway would have been 104 South Broadway before 1928.

Looking in old city directories in the Salem Library, we discovered that the first directory in its collection to list addresses in alphabetical order by street name was the 1906-1907 director. That year and through 1910 the 104 South Broadway address was listed as the George Shearer Grocery. In 1915 the G.A. Lippert Grocery was listed there. By 1918, the listing was the Harry J. Coy Jr. Grocery and by 1923, the Goldberg Brothers Produce Store. The 1927 listing showed the Moon Motor Company was at 104, which probably means that the old structure in the Burchfield drawing had been torn down between 1923 and 1927. The 1948 directory listed Buckeye Motors at 339 South Broadway. Larry Shaffer of Shaffer's Salem Autorama said it was his understanding that the present dealership building was started before World War II but because of the steel shortage during the war, was not completed until after the war. It changed from Buckeye Rambler to the Autorama in 1971.

Longtime Salem resident George Fronk believes this unidentified Burchfield drawing depicts a grocery store on South Broadway.

Fronk noted that several old buildings south of Race Street on the west side South Broadway were razed near the intersection of South Broadway and Columbia. Today, you can notice by the absence of slate roofs in the area that Fronk was certainly right about that.

The Nelson-Adkins Museum of Art in Kansas City was considering placing the Burchfield drawing in a summer exhibition of American drawings and watercolors and wondered if we could help identify the site of the drawing. We'll let the museum people know what we've learned.

Reader Barbara Wright adds to South Broadway's history

By Lois Firestone

BARBARA A. WRIGHT OF Edgewater, Maryland has added some pertinent findings about the character of South Broadway in the 1900s through genealogical research on her paternal family, the Hendricks clan. The branch of the Hendricks family living in the Salem-Greenford area were John Baer Hendricks and Mary Pople Hendricks who were married in 1887. Barbara's paternal grandmother was Grace Hendricks Wright Schindler who was born in 1890 and died in 1958.

While looking through city directories during a Salem visit, she discovered that her great grandmother, Mary Pople Hendricks, boarded at the rear of 104 Broadway in 1909 and 1910. Also listed as living at the same address were Minnie and William Hendricks — Barbara hasn't yet identified their relationship to her great grandmother.

Later she ran across a March 16, 1992 article in Yesteryears about a Charles Burchfield drawing of a building, the site unknown. In a previous story a few weeks before, we'd asked readers to let us know if they recognized the building — a Kansas City museum was compiling a summer 1992 exhibition of American drawings and wanted to include the Burchfield building but was interested in naming the site.

When George Fronk of Copeland Oaks saw the picture, he recognized it immediately — "It just jumped out at me," Fronk told us, and identified it as a 1912 grocery store and boarding house at 104 South Broadway on the site of Shaffer's Salem Autorama car dealership. Our check of city directories showed that George Shearer ran a grocery store there in 1910. In 1918, Harry J. Coy Jr. ran a grocery at the same address.

"My great grandmother married a Coy after divorcing John Baer Hendricks," Barbara writes. "My father, Merle Wright (1914-1992), had told me the Coy she married had a farm near Winona, but now I wonder if he might have also had a grocery store."

"My father was born in the Colonel T. C. Boone house at the corner of Columbia Street and Penn Avenue where the post office is now located," she says. "His family lived in that vicinity for many years. In fact, at the time of my grandmother's death, she and her son Wayne were living in the same apartment where my father was born. After possibly four decades she returned to that house which was involved in so much of the family's history."

Remembering Grace, by Barbara Wright

Being Grace's only grandchild and the only grandparent I really knew, we had a special relationship. She had to work to raise her sons after she and George separated, but she always had time to make clothes for me. She made my First Communion and eighth grade graduation dresses which I still have. I remember she made me two plaid pleated skirts when I was in high school.

When my dad was drafted into the Navy in World War II a month before my seventh birthday, my mother had to get a job at the A&P in Salem to make the mortgage payment on the house they had just bought at 921 Morris Ave. I was attending St. Paul's Catholic School just a block from the A&P. After school I would go there and wait for Grace to walk from the Salem China Co. and walk me to her home at 335 W. Pershing St. She always wore high heels to work. Before we moved we lived downstairs and she, Orrie, and Wayne lived upstairs (and Gus too for their short marriage). After we moved to Morris Ave., her brother, Dutch (Hiram), and his family lived downstairs. When we all lived at 637 Woodland Ave. at the time of my birth, we had the same arrangement.

On school holidays I would go to work with her at the Salem China Co. and help her with her job. One of her jobs at the pottery was gluing a paper backing on wall plaques. Once the President of the company, Floyd McKee, came to inspect my work and paid me a nickel. One time I was staying with her overnight "to go to work" and got up the next morning with chicken pox. Grace had also worked at the Grove Co., a gum factory.

My mother, Grace, and I took the train from Salem to Chicago for the weekend to visit my dad when he was in basic training at Great Lakes. Before my dad was shipped out to Guam, my mother went to visit him in Rhode Island for a week and I got to stay with Grace. I never called her grandma, it was always Grace. I'm sure I was spoiled more during that week than I was. She let me "wear lipstick" as I remember.

Grace never owned property. She always lived in apartments. She did not have a refrigerator until after the War when she and Wayne were living on E. State St. across from the school in two rooms with a bath. When my dad was born they lived in the T.C. Boone house where the Salem post office is now located at Penn Ave. and Columbia St. He was born in that house. I understand that she was always taking in a member of the family who needed a place to stay. At the time of Grace's death, she and Wayne were living in the same apartment where Dad was born.

She was a very good cook and never measured contents for her recipes. I always stayed with her the night before Thanksgiving to help prepare the turkey and bake pies. She would bake biscuits and we would pour syrup over them. She loved strawberry shortcake.

During my senior year of high school in 1954 Grace had to have an operation at Northside Hospital in Youngstown for colon cancer. During the next three years she would have to return to Youngstown for treatments. I remember driving her to Youngstown and not being able to get her home fast enough due to her pain after the treatment. She suffered very much in her last few months and weighed forty pounds at her death. Grace used the middle name Iola. Her sister, Pearl, told me in 1995 that she thinks Grace came up with the name from a book she read.

TRIVIA TEASER

NOTE: How well do you know Salem's history? Here's a chance to find out. John Berthold of Salem, who created The Salem Info Game for his Boy Scouts of America Eagle Scout project, has agreed to let the Salem News publish a question daily.

Question: Name a well known magician from Salem born in 1892 and acquainted with Harry Houdini.
Answer: George F. Wright.
b. 1880

BACK IN THE EARLY years of this century, Salem had a well known magician by the name of George F. Wright. He lived at 132 South Lincoln Avenue. Among his acquaintances were Harry Houdini, Harry Kellar, dean of American magicians, George E. Closson and many other prominent leaders in the magical field.

Wright was also one of the originators of the National Brotherhood of Magicians. He attained perhaps his greatest distinction in his spiritualistic work, serving on a national committee active in the exposure of fraudulent mediums.

Wright's ambition to become a magician started back in 1904, when as a boy of 12 he watched a magician perform at the county fair in Lisbon. The performer snatched 50 cent pieces from the air and made rose bushes grow out of umbrellas.

Wright spent 10 cents to watch the exhibition from inside the tent where more coins were extracted from the air, and oranges, eggs and chickens were found in whisks of farmers. He was fascinated to see a woman sawn in two. The boy then purchased a 10-cent book from the magician titled "Miracles." That little book was the beginning of Wright's career as a sleight of hand expert.

"From time to time," Wright later recalled, "as fast as I obtained a quarter or 50 cents, it was spent on some trick obtained through a catalog I got from the magician. Soon I had convinced myself I was the greatest magician alive, and by the time a circus came to Leetonia two years later, I was prepared to duplicate the feats of any performer."

During the three weeks the circus remained in Leetonia, Wright haunted the tent where the magician performed his feats. The circus was known as "The New Great Syndicate Shows." Later, in an attempt to raise money, a performance was given at the old Grand Opera House in Salem.

When the show took to the road again, Wright went with it as helper in the cook tent. In the two months he was with the show he became an intimate friend of the magician who later became his co-worker. Together they wrote several books on magic.

Wright spent three seasons with Harry Kellar, generally regarded in many nations at that time as the dean of the world's magicians. In 1908, with George E. Closson, Clinton Burgess and others, Wright laid the groundwork for the National Brotherhood of Magicians. Within a few years, it embraced 800 magicians throughout the world.

Wright spent a year as national organizer, and while active on committees of the brotherhood was detailed to conduct an investigation into spiritualism. "I have no fight with spiritualism," Wright explained. "But I do have a fight with fake mediums, and between them and myself there can be no peace. It has been my good fortune to have been able to expose more than 300 of them. My contact with so called fortune tellers and mediums has all been disappointing to me. I have yet to meet the genuine article."

"I do not question spiritualists as a religious body, for we are all interested in what is in store for us after we leave this mortal plane of existence. I am so open-minded now towards belief in the hereafter just as if I never came into contact with the fraudulent mediums and, as a student of psychology for more than ten years have had many interesting experiences in this line.

"The study of mental telepathy," he added, "has always interested me. To me telepathy is a certainty but so far there is so little known of it that for amusement purposes it would fall utterly. Hypnotism is a demonstrated fact, yet 20 years ago no physician would have believed it to be reality.

"Hypnotism is nothing more than suggestion, so applied by the operator that the mind of the subject can accept. Suggestions need not be spoken; they may be silent and given by a glance of the eye or motion of the hand of induced through a desire to imitate.

"Next comes the psychology of deception. There is a fascination about that. A magician tells his audience that the hand is quicker than the eye but this, of course, is not so. Then why, you ask, does he try to impress an untruth on the minds of his audience? It is because the mind must be mislead. Effect, without cause, is the magician's aim."

Following his retirement from the stage in 1929, Wright returned to Salem, his native city. He continued to give exhibitions of his magical talents at card parties, banquets and other functions throughout the area. He also continued to issue a challenge to any of the self-styled "seers," saying he could expose their means of "conversing" with spirits within 24 hours.

In February of 1933, Wright led a movement to organize a club for Salem residents interested in magic. He became its president, and Ralph Stiffler was secretary/treasurer. Perry Woodford drafted regulations for the organization. Meetings were held in the homes of members.

Remembering George, by Barbara Wright

I don't know exactly when George left Salem or his destination. During my early years he was living in Reading near Cincinnati, OH and did sign painting -- probably other odd jobs too.

George's interest was magic and claimed to know Houdini. I have jokingly said that George's best magic trick was appearing on our doorstep every few years. We would then spend the afternoon watching George perform magic. He was always George to me, not grandpa. I don't know if he kept in contact with his sons through the years, but my parents and I did visit him in Reading around 1948.

His son, Wayne, told me George was a good musician and sold phonographic records in Alliance, OH. I don't remember music in his background. His sister was a concert pianist according to Wayne. I do remember Mom and I visited his half sister, Mrs. Mary Weirick, who lived on Ohio Ave. across from the Catholic church. I think she made me a dress.

George was a member of the KKK in Salem, probably around 1923. He took my dad who was about 8 years old to a rally. In Salem at that time the KKK was anti-Catholic. Years later after Dad married a Catholic, he apologized to Mom for his actions.

George served as a Marine in Panama during the construction of the Panama Canal. I believe he also worked on the construction of Salem High School on N. Lincoln Ave., now the Junior High School.

Sometime in the middle 1950s George returned to Salem for good. He rented a room from a lady on S. Lincoln Ave. She called my dad one day and said George was ill and needed help. He then came to live with us until about 1956 when Dad got him into the Cupola Nursing Home on High St. in Leetonia, OH. I have learned since that this house was built by W.G. Hendricks, a grandson of William G., around 1891. George died at the nursing home.

"Big House" & "Little House"

The attached picture has considerable HENDRICKS family history. The houses (the extension to the right is a detached house) were built by Col. T.C. Boone, a cousin of Daniel Boone. The houses were located at the corner of Penn Avenue and Columbia Street (where the Salem, OH post office is now located). We always identified the two houses as the "big house" and "little house."

The big house was divided into apartments during my father's youth (Merle M. Wright (1914-1992)). He was born in a first floor apartment located on the Columbia Street side. His mother, Grace Hendricks Wright Schindler (1890-1958), had management control of the apartments. During this period many in the Hendricks family resided in the "big house." When Merle and his brothers, Orrie H. (1922-1982) and Wayne Warren (1926-), were children they resided with their parents in the "little house." Their parents, Grace and George F. Wright, divorced in 1937. I do not know the date they separated. The 1930 Salem City Directory shows that George lived at 265 Penn Street.

A black rod-iron spoked fence can be seen in the picture. As a child, Merle, was walking along the top of the fence. He stumbled and one of the spokes pierced his leg. He had a scar for life on his leg from this childhood escapade.

In August 1954 Grace and her youngest son, Wayne, moved back into the "big house" into the same apartment where her oldest son, Merle, was born in 1914. They had been living for several years on E. State Street across from St. Paul's Catholic Church in the upstairs apartment in a house owned by the Robert Watterson family. The downstairs was occupied by the Watterson engineering firm and a gas station. The apartment consisted of two large rooms and bath. The "big house" entrance was on the Columbia Street side of the house. The room entered was the living room and Wayne's bedroom (used a hide-a-bed couch). From that room you entered the dining area and Grace's bedroom (another hide-a-bed couch was used). The bathroom entrance was off of this room. A very small kitchen was off of this room -- the backside of the house.

In the early 1950s through 1960 (Salem City Directory cites 1953-1960) Hiram Silvester Hendricks (1898-1970) and his wife, Lucy (1889-1961), lived in the front corner apartment (Columbia Street side). A door connected their apartment with Grace and Wayne's apartment. These two apartments shared a bath.

Two of the homes along Penn Avenue, torn down to make way for Salem's new postoffice. Photo was taken in 1961, immediately before work began.

Suicide Ruled In Man's Death

False belief that he had incurable cancer plus despondency over unemployment drove Asher Carl Hendricks, 47, 931 Mason NW, to suicide yesterday.

Hendricks shot himself while seated in his parked car on Pine SE Ext. He died in Trumbull Memorial Hospital at 1:20 p.m.

He was rushed to the hospital after he was discovered about 12:30 p.m. by a Wardwell GSA Depot guard who made a check of the car when he spotted it parked in the driveway between Pine and the main gate.

Dr. Joseph Sudimack Jr., Trumbull coroner, ruled the death suicide.

Trumbull sheriff's deputies said Hendricks was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car, a bullet wound in his right temple area and a .32-caliber revolver in his right hand.

Investigation revealed Hendricks had an appointment with his doctor at 1:30 p.m. When queried, the doctor said that nothing was wrong with the man except his belief that he had cancer.

Mrs. Hendricks said that her husband had been acting strangely for the past couple of days, deputies reported.

Funeral services for Mr. Hendricks will be held Thursday at 10:30 a.m. at the McFarland and Son Funeral Home. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Born March 4, 1916, in Fort Wayne, Ind., he was the son of John and Jennie Opal Simpson Hendricks. On Sept. 28, 1936, he married Margaret Kovach, who survives.

A resident here since 1930, coming from Salem, he was a member of the First Methodist Church of Salem and Teamsters Local 348 of Akron.

A veteran of World War II, he was employed as a truck driver by the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co. for 25 years.

Besides his wife, he leaves his mother, Mrs. Jennie Opal Wallace of Warren; a son, Carl Hendricks of Akron; a sister, Mrs. Kenneth (Mildred O.) MacDonald of Niland, Calif. and three grandchildren.

5/30/95 Mary E. Davis of Columbiana Co. Court of Common Pleas (Lisbon, OH) could not find Edith's birth certificate record.

8/14/95 Per Jocelyn Wilms, volunteer genealogist for the Probate Court, Youngstown, OH Mahoning Co., the birth certificate for Edith is not available. The Family Record shows she was born in Columbiana Co.

Source: Her sister, Pearl Hendricks Ross Kline.

Edith died of flu and pneumonia seven days after the birth of her son. Taking her back to Boulder, CO and her burial was held up three weeks due to her husband's and his sister's illness in Great Falls, MT. Edith's mother, Mary, went to Great Falls at the time of her death according to Pearl.

Edith and her brother, Hiram S., went to live in Boulder, CO where their sisters, Pearl & Helen, were living with their aunt, Annie Warner. Edith was an eighth grade graduate, probably age 13, about 1910. Edith had lived there about a year working in Annie's boarding house. One morning she complained of having the flu and was sent upstairs to rest. In the evening about 10 p.m. Annie told someone to get her. Edith was gone. Uncle Harry Drotleff had taken her to a friend's hotel to live and work. These people's name was Arnett. Annie was a disciplinarian. Edith lived there a couple years. Pearl visited her often. Edith then rented a little house. Edith met Edward McAndrew. They went together about a year and then married. He left for Great Falls, MT to work. Edith went to live there about a month later. She had a baby boy about a year later and died seven days after his birth at the time of the Spanish flu epidemic. Edith's son was raised by the McAndrew grandparents in Boulder.

Edith was beautiful and was photographed for a calendar.

Marriage record of Edith Hendricks and Edward McAndrew received from Mary L. Baumgardner, Office Manager, Sacred Heart of Jesus Parish, 2312 14th St., Boulder, CO 80304.

"I am enclosing a copy of the marriage record for Edith and Edward. Both the handwriting and the fact that it's in Latin make it difficult to decipher! It says they were married March 17, 1917 with a dispensation of impediment for mixed religion marriage which joined Edward McAndrew and Edith Hendricks, a baptized Methodist. Witnesses were Mr. & Mrs. Pat McAndrew. The priest was Rev. Agatho Strittmatter, O.S.B."

EDITH HENDRICKS McANDREW IS DEAD FROM INFLUENZA

The sad news reached Boulder Saturday that Mrs. Edith Hendricks McAndrew, wife of Edward McAndrew had died in Great Falls, Montana, aged 23 years, leaving a little week old baby boy. The deceased was a lovely little woman having very many friends here. She was a pleasing saleslady in Sallers' store up to the time of her marriage about two years ago when they went to the above place to live. For several years he had been a bookkeeper and in charge of the office supplies department at Greenman's store having gone to Montana to fill a similar position. His mother, Mrs. H. P. McAndrew, and little daughter Helen, went to visit them a month ago. The latter is now ill with the influenza as is Mr. McAndrew, so they will not come home with the remains until they are both well when the funeral will take place here. Mrs. Anna Warner and Mrs. Simon Drothleff are aunts living here.

After Edith Hendricks McAndrew's death in 1918 in Great Falls, MT, her newborn son, Edward Cyrillus McAndrew, Jr., was taken to Boulder, CO to be raised by his paternal grandparents, Patrick Henry and Regina (Zbaren) McAndrew. Edward Jr. saw his father only four or five times through the years. His father continued to live in Great Falls, remarried, and fathered two more children. Edward Jr. told me in January 1997 that after his father's death his wife wrote Edward that they did go to Boulder to get him, but the grandparents refused to give him up. Edward never had contact with his mother's family in his 78 years until I found where he was living, Richland, WA, in December 1996. He knew nothing of his mother's family and told me in a phone conversation that he was interested in seeing the family history and learn something about his Hendricks' ancestors and their descendants.

Edward was raised by his grandparents who were of Irish and Swiss ancestry. The McAndrews married in 1889 and lived in Denver, CO where six of their eight children were born. In 1902 they moved to Boulder, CO where along with seven of their children (a daughter died of diphtheria at age 3) relatives and friends lived with them for months on end when they had no where to live. At this time there was no government assistance for the jobless. The McAndrews had a large garden, chickens and a cow in the early years. The McAndrew children were educated -- some of them attending the University of Colorado in Boulder.

Edward's grandfather was patriotic and worked hard throughout his life. His grandmother was religious, performed her duties for the home, and kept the family activities on an even keel. She had a special talent for providing medical care to family and neighbors.

The McAndrew children helped with financial support. Margaret, the oldest daughter, was given the name Gegee by Edward Jr. She had numerous teaching jobs and did not marry until she was 30. Edward Sr. contributed toward the family support and helped with household maintenance and chores. He was a great baseball player. He was a salesman throughout his life and was calling on customers at age 80. He always wore a white shirt and tie and his hat was his trademark. Mary Regina was a teacher in Colorado, North Dakota, Idaho and New Mexico. She too contributed to the support of the family home and expenses of the younger children. Mary's health was not good. She married a lawyer and lived in Durango, CO until her death 10 years later. Edward Jr. stayed with the Jacobsons for two years while he attended a community college in 1936-37. Joseph was instrumental in building the elder McAndrews an eleven room home. Mary and Joseph paid the loan for the house. Joseph lived in New York city and Rochester. Helen married and lived in Buffalo, NY. Elizabeth and her family lived in Denver. John lived in the family home with his children after his marriage failed.

The above information is from The McAndrew Family of Boulder, Co., 1889-1985.

After I found Edward McAndrew, son of Edith, I told him that his aunt, Pearl Hendricks Ross Kline, was still living in Indiana. Mac (as he has been know) had never had contact with any Hendricks relatives in his lifetime. He wrote the following letter to Aunt Pearl and sent a copy to me.
--Barbara Wright

January 1997

"Dear Aunt Pearl:

Hope you are feeling well and that you have a wonderful year in 1997.

Thanks to Barbara Wright's interest in genealogy and her effort in locating and contacting me, I have the opportunity to know some of my mother's family and relatives.

The old saying "Better late than never" seems to fit perfectly.

The reason for no contact perhaps, over so many years, was geographical (Montana, Ohio, and Colorado) or people just moving and living their own lives.

For my case, neither my Grandparents or my Dad, who I only saw four times during my life, ever mentioned the Hendricks family. Perhaps I better try and give you a thumbnail version of my 78 years. I understand you are aware of my early years being raised by my Grandparents in Boulder, CO. I do remember two ladies visiting me when I was little in Boulder. They must have been my mother's relatives or friends. [Edith's maternal aunts lived in Boulder.]

I attended Boulder High School, one year at University of Colorado and one year at Fort Lewis Junior College in Durango, Colorado. I was drafted into the military, as a Staff/Sgt. in the Infantry of the First Army (Big Red One). During that time, on May 1, 1943, I married Mary Helen Stewart of Pueblo, Colorado. We have celebrated 53 anniversaries, and even let the Russians celebrate their May Day with us.

After discharge from Army in 1945 we lived in Denver where I worked for Western Air Lines. In 1948 we moved to Richland, WA. This area is known as the Tri Cities area (Pasco, Kennewick & Richland) is adjacent to the Hanford Project (originally the Manhattan Project) which at one time operated Eight Nuclear Reactors and provided fuel for Atomic Bombs.

I worked in Supervisory and Management capacity for several contractors, (G.E., ITT, ARCO, and Rockwell) providing services to the Atomic Energy Commission. My wife, who I call Peggy (Peg as of my heart), did secretarial work for General Electric and Exxon until we retired in 1985. Oh yes, we took time out to have a son, Michael John McAndrew, born 1/22/62. He presently works at a local bank as a loan officer. He married Marci Lynn Whitney on 10/28/89. They live about 5 miles from us.

For the last 12 years I have been legally blind with coriditus. Sounds bad and is bad but I can see fairly good, can't read or do close work. Can watch TV (love sports) if I get about a foot away from screen. I have peripheral vision only. Peg does all the driving and reads the news for me. We don't travel much any more but usually fly when we take trips.

If we get to Ohio you can bet we will look you up.
[Aunt Pearl has lived in Indiana since she was about 15.]
I hope this rambling fills you in on this nephew's life.

All our Love,

E.C. McAndrew Jr.

P.S.

Enclosed are photos of my wife, Peggy, and myself and our son, Michael, and his wife, Marci. These are not the greatest pictures but at least you will know what we look like."

Pearl & Homer Kline

CORRESPONDENCE FROM PEARL KLINE TO BARBARA A. WRIGHT

In correspondence starting in December 1984 to the present time Aunt Pearl has been crippled with arthritis. In 1984 she hired someone to paint the trim on the second story of their house. She would do the first story herself (81 years old and a crippling ailment). She got caught by a visit from K.B., her son-in-law and the Kellys, Florence & Andy, from Salem, OH. Florence was the stepdaughter of Hiram S. Hendricks (Uncle Dutch), brother of Aunt Pearl. Homer, her husband, was still able to mow the yard and tend the garden in 1984. He suffered with high blood pressure and a heart problem. Betty & Dean, her daughter and son-in-law, were helping with errands, appointments, etc. -- as Betty still does in 1995. In 1984 Pearl had 16 great grandchildren. Her grandchildren lived in or near Tacoma, WA, Butte, MT, Tampa, FL and Gettysburg, PA. Three still lived in Indiana. A granddaughter was attending college in Bloomington, IN and a great grandson was in college in Michigan.

In April 1985 she was considering putting Homer in a nursing home. She had had two heart attacks that year. In December 1985 Homer had had several strokes. In December 1986 she was still caring for Homer rather than putting him in a nursing home.

In a letter received in 1988 Homer was in a nursing home. Aunt Pearl had been hospitalized twice in the fall of the year. She also was thinking of making a change (nursing home) in the spring. In 1994 she was still living alone (91 years old).

In a letter dated December 1990 she had entered a nursing home for a few months. She then stayed with Betty for six weeks and then returned to her own home. She had broken her hip.

In a September 1994 letter she wrote that Betty lives four miles from her and looks after her. Betty's grandchildren all live away -- just one son living in Kendallville. Mary's (her deceased daughter) granddaughter was in the Navy in Spain for three years. She had twelve years of service. In 1994 Aunt Pearl had 13 great great grandchildren.

I had known that Aunt Pearl and Aunt Helen, her sister, the youngest of John Baer & Mary's children, had spent some of their youth in Colorado. In September 1994 I wrote to Aunt Pearl questioning her about their stay there. This was her reply: That was many years ago -- when I was between five and six years old. My Mom's older sister lived in Boulder just north of Denver. Her name was Anna Warner. She had a son and daughter, Fred and Ethel. She had a boarding house and rooming house -- just for professors and teachers and college students. She had 45 plus regular boarders. After my parents divorce Mom took us two girls and went out to my Aunt Annie's to live and we two girls were there for ten years. We came back to Indiana in 1918 after the first world war was over. Aunt Lou & Uncle Simon (Drotleff) (sister of Mary Pople Hendricks) came to Boulder, Colorado to live several years after we went out there. I never saw any of them after we came back east. I just heard about them from Grace (her sister) as she used to keep in touch with Aunt Lou.

I can't begin to write all the story. My mother came back to Indiana after a few years and it was several years before I ever saw her again. I could fill in lots of things if I could talk to you. My mother's brothers and sisters were scattered all over the country. I never saw my grandmother (Pople) as she had passed away before I was born. I knew my Grandpa Pople (mother's Dad) as he visited once when we were in Colorado. To me he was a real grandpa. I think I was ten years old.

Source: Pearl Kline conversation with Barbara Wright Oct. 1995
The reason Pearl & Helen returned east with their mother was due to a big argument Mary and Annie had. Mary was forced to bring the girls back.

Pearl was 16 years old. She stayed with her brothers, Ed and Hiram S. (Dutch), and kept house for them. She lived with her father and Abbie Sell and worked in the house and on the farm. Her brothers lived in Millville, OH near the mines where they worked.

Additional Christmas Card notes to B.A.Wright from Pearl Kline.

No date - Dear Barbara, "Got your card and letter and was very glad to hear from you. I neglected answering your note last year so won't put it off this time. Thank you for the pictures. Things are just the same here. Do the same things everyday. Get older and don't go as much as we used to as there is no one to do chores for us. Yes, my family has grown. Mary's two boys are in the Navy. Kenny the married boy has been in over 2 years and the younger one a year and a half. They will be home around Christmas. Kenny is stationed aboard ship at San Diego, CA. Blaine at Norfolk, VA. Kenny was in the Philippines for 18 months and will be going overseas again in February for the remainder of his time in the service and that will be 20 months. He has one child. Martha has two little girls. She works all the time has an office job. An elderly lady baby-sits for her. Mary still works and they live on a farm and are buying it. See Dutch once a year as Florence and Andy bring him out. Do you remember Sherry? My granddaughter that came out to Salem with us and was to the picnic. She graduates from high school this year. They live in Tampa, FL. So now you know how fast they are growing up. Would like to see everyone in Salem but don't see how we can go down there. I am glad you like living in Washington. Blaine has been there sight-seeing on two week-ends and he really liked what he saw of it. Hope you have the best Christmas ever." As always, Pearl

Dec. 1976 - "We are about the same as usual. Everyone else in the family is o.k. We made a trip to FL last April to my grandson's wedding. We were there 10 days. Really enjoyed it. Mary & K.B. were so kind as to take us down there, also another couple (friends of theirs) went along. Hope the weather is nice so you have a good flight home." Love, Pearl & Homer

Dec. 1977 - "We are the same as usual. Say "Hello" to your folks for me." Pearl & Homer

No date - "Thank you for your note. We are still on the farm but I am in hopes we will quite before another year goes by. We have been as well as can be expected at our age. Saw your dad and talked for a short time last July. Hope you have a nice holiday." Pearl & Homer

No date - R.R. 1 Rome City, IN 46784 - "Thought I had better drop you a note as we have a new address. We moved to town as we didn't like the mobile home. Guess we should have stayed on the farm. We are both well. Hope you are well. Tell everyone Hi for us when you go home." Pearl & Homer

No date - Dear Barbara, "Hope you are well. We are not too good, but keep going. Give my love to your folks when you go home. We think of all of you so often. Helen isn't a bit well. Have a nice Holiday." Aunt Pearl & Homer

When I visited Aunt Pearl at her home in Rome City, IN in October 1995, she had a large area by her garage planted with Portulaca. In the spring of 1996 I planted Portulaca and call it my Aunt Pearl garden. I hope that the plants will return yearly and I will always think of Aunt Pearl and our talks in 1995.

Aunt Pearl entered Sacred Home, Avilla, IN in February 1996. In August I received a card from her with a lengthy note. She said, "Guess everything was done for the best although I will never like it here. I am one among 150 people, but it took some of the worry about me off my children and I get the best of care here. Just come out and see for yourself. I know that everyone enjoyed the visit when you were here." Aunt Pearl's home and possessions were sold at auction in 1996.

Notes from correspondence from Pearl Kline to Barbara A. Wright
In December 1981 Aunt Pearl mentioned that her daughter, Mary, had retired from General Electric and her husband, K.B., was retired from the railroad. In April 1985 K.B. had been to the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota suffering from a pinched nerve in his neck. In December 1985 she wrote that Mary had emphysema and was on oxygen all the time and in a wheelchair part-time. In December 1986 K.B. had terminal cancer and was being treated with chemotherapy. In December 1990 Mary had 4 great grandchildren. She was living with her oldest son -- on oxygen all the time. Mary's daughter, Martha, had a daughter in the Navy (10 years) stationed in Iceland. The daughter's husband was also in the Navy, both in security related jobs. They had two children. In 1988 or 1989 Mary was in a nursing home in Auburn, IN.

Source: George Sidney Ross, Jr. (4/24/95) Official papers show Helen's name as Helen Harriet and her birth date as Nov. 8, 1904.

A family record among her sister's papers (Grace), her name is recorded as Harriet Helen and her birth date is recorded as Nov. 6, 1904.

Her birth certificate from Columbiana Co. shows her name as Harriet and birth date Aug. 26, 1904. She was known as Helen throughout her life.

She was divorced from George Sidney Ross Sr., remarried him, but did not live with him according to son, George. They remarried so she would be eligible for his Social Security benefits which at that time the law had not been enacted making her eligible for his Social Security benefits.

Note from correspondence from Pearl Kline to Barbara A. Wright.

In December 1986 Helen had been in a nursing home as of Feb. 1 for three years. She did not recognize anyone in the family. She suffered from Alzheimer's disease.

Source: Pearl Kline Oct. 1995.

After Helen and Pearl returned from Colorado (see story in Pearl's section), Helen lived with her sister, Grace, in Salem, OH and worked in a confectionery store. Helen was about 13 years old. The girls lived in Salem for about three months (during a summer) and then went to Fort Wayne, IN and settled in that area for the rest of their lives. Helen's father, John Baer, called Helen "Hattie."

Row 7

To the left of the main entrance to the cemetery is a large mausoleum, no longer in use. During the 1940s the village burial records show that many families had the remains removed from the mausoleum to the cemetery or, in a few instances, to other cemeteries. The mausoleum was then sealed and the burials that remained are represented by two rows of flat markers at the back edge of Section D. The markers have names only. For further information on most of these burials, see Canfield Burial Records.

"Elta & Monroe lived on Rt. 224 for many years. They raised miniature ponies and showed them at several county fairs and were very well known at the Canfield Fair, enjoying an excellent reputation for their animals. Their grandchild, Donna Lee, grew up showing the ponies for her grandparents. I remember Elta was a diabetic and had to watch her diet."

° 8/29/96 While at the Canfield Fair, I happened upon a peanut concession stand under the grandstand. By chance it was Isabelle Forney's and she was there. She couldn't give any information to help with the Miller descendant search. Her daughter, Donna, was also at the pony area of the fair, but I didn't locate her.

Mary was the second of eight children. She lived in the vicinity of Green Twp. nearly all of her life. Charles Hendricks was her school teacher. She was not allowed to have dates until she was 18, so he wrote notes to her. After Charles' death in 1878 she held her family of eight children, ranging from less than one year to 17 years, together on the farm. She finished paying the indebtedness against the farm.
She married a man, Henry Cogil, from near Central City, NE about 1881 or 1882. This marriage turned out to be a very unhappy venture which ended in divorce. Mary was a very remarkable woman and an ancestor to whom we can point with pride.

p. 3 "Pigs got all waste milk, buttermilk, peelings, etc., etc. I don't remember much about pigs, think three was our usual amount. One was butchered when winter came. I recall hams & shoulders & helping to rub them daily with salt, saltpeter, brown sugar, etc., to cure them. I think it was Uncle Alex & Wright who helped with butchering."

p. 6 "Uncle Harve came one summer day; hired a swarm of bees, we had three hives under beech tree, NE corner lawn. Uncle Harve had hat with netting veil all around; a bellows contraption that blew smoke, when it was squeezed, to quite bees. He never got stung. He had many hived bees himself. Uncle Alex did too. I remember sitting at Aunt Rose's kitchen table, eating honey, seemed a whole comb was devoured. Good. One time Harry & Hubert, little boys of Fred Gee came (often did) this time they thought they'd chase bees back in their box, got stung something fierce."

p. 19 "A huxter who came to Aunt Rose's every week or any way often, buying veal calves, they always referred to him as, "Same day next week" a foreigner, no doubt, who could speak very little English and likely had an unpronounceable name."

p. 23 "Aunt Rose's lament after Uncle Alex returned from a farm sale having purchased some farm tool he considered a bargain, or sharp deal. "You paid more than anyone else" which would have, of course been true, as last bidder got what ever twas but, thinking on it now, I'm sure she was bitterly thinking of wanted and needed things for in house. Their house was identical same structure as ours, also Uncle Harve's, likely Granpa Knauf had same carpenter do all; seems to me it as Schaffer in Gree. Kitchen, living room, bed room and dining room downstairs; three bed rooms up stairs. Aunt Rose's house was furnished with bare necessities as I recall; cook stove, table, chairs, an old couch behind stove, wash basin on bench, water in a bucket. Never did have furnace running. Water much less., good lights. Plenty to eat; but, none of the comforts, just blinds at windows. And it could have been afforded; considered fripperies I suppose. Pot bellied heating stove in room to west, grate in northwest room. Seems now sort of miserly."

Wright had been a cemetery trustee for many years. The church addition with the flat roof was thanks to them. Our fellowship hall is called Hendricks Fellowship Hall. As a result of a trip to OH, we have some new information and insights. Susan and Robin Hendricks have a box of memorabilia from Uncle Willard's time. From the handwritten notes it contained it would seem that the "Uncle Charlie History" had three authors. Clara, wife of Willard, wrote the Hendricks portion; Charles W. Hendricks provided the McCline/California update in 1951. The Templin section was the work of Ethel Templin Delfs, daughter of Mark B. Templin.

The church that Lewis and Sarah Ann Templin helped to build is still being used by a small congregation. Sunday school is being held in the basement as it was when our grandmother and great grandmother attended. The Lewis Templin home, next door, is being renovated by its present owner. There are two other houses in the immediate vicinity which were built by the Templin/Hendricks family on Calla Rd. Both are in good condition. The Templin Seed Company is gone.

The little school that once stood on the Hendricks farm has been moved to the fairgrounds. It is a part of the Western Reserve Historical Project.

We have several second cousins living in the area. Many other people there are related to us more distantly. The area is rural. The social life revolves around the church. The July 4 parade, the County Fair, and Halloween are a very important part of life in the Canfield/Greenford community. There is a sustained effort to maintain and preserve the historical landmarks. The people we met whether family or not were very gracious and the country side was green and beautiful.

Note: Calla Community Evangelical Church was originally Mt. Zion Evangelical Church.

The Calla Evangelical Community Church shortly after it was built in 1873. Mark Templin was Sunday School superintendent of the church for 25 years. YESTERYEARS, Vol. 2, No. 15 1/12/93

—Charles Hendricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hendricks, died last Sunday afternoon at his home in Ellsworth township, after about a year illness with sugar diabetes. His age was 15 years. He was a fine young man and his death is sincerely mourned by a wide circle of friends. Besides his parents he leaves two brothers, Floyd and Paul. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning meeting at the house at 10 o'clock and going to the Presbyterian church in Ellsworth where Rev. Robert J. Pugh of Columbus, formerly of Canfield, pronounced the eulogy. Interment was made in the Ellsworth cemetery.

Farmer Hit By Ram Dies

A Canfield farmer, Floyd Hendricks, 51, of Leffingwell Road, died at 8 p.m. Saturday in South Side Hospital of injuries received four hours earlier when a ram butted him against a stone wall.

Hospital officials said Hendricks apparently died of a fractured skull. Dr. David Belinky, Mahoning County coroner, is investigating.

Friends said Hendricks was helping Carl Clay, a neighbor, in Clay's barn when the ram butted him. He fell and struck his head against the barn's stone foundation.

Collapses at Home

Hendricks apparently was uninjured and went home shortly afterward. About 5 p.m. at home he complained of a severe headache. A few minutes later he collapsed and was taken to South Side Hospital.

He was born in Ellsworth Township Sept. 10, 1902, a son of William and Clara Lower Hendricks, and lived at the family farm his entire life.

Mr. Hendricks was a member of Canfield Christian Church.

He leaves his wife, the former Viola Clay, and his parents all at home, and a brother, Paul of Canfield, who is curator of the Butler Art Gallery.

The body is at the Williams Funeral Home in Canfield.

PAINTINGS BY PAUL LEWIS HENDRICKS, 1904-1956

Paul Lewis Hendricks was born and grew up in northeastern rural Ohio. As a young man he was intensely interested in drawing. Often he was reprimanded by his teachers for drawing in class. As a student at Cochran School of Fine Art and Abbott School, both in Washington, D. C. he completed his training in day school and night school simultaneously. During ten years of active painting both in oil and water color his work won him many awards and honors in exhibits in art museums and galleries in fifty cities. Paul Hendricks' paintings are owned by museums and many private collectors. His work has the rare quality of being appreciated by fine art critics and being enjoyed equally by every day people who "know what I like". Along with his paintings of rural Ohio he has many paintings of the rural deep south. The moods and the atmospheres he has portrayed are of a nostalgic America that is rapidly vanishing.

Hendricks Wins Ohio Water Color Top Award of '45

Paul Lewis Hendricks of Canfield won top honors in the 21st annual competition of the Ohio Water Color Society at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts.

Another Youngstown district artist, Fred Yost, artist-in-residence at Butler Art Institute, was the 1944 first-prize winner.

Hendricks, a frequent exhibitor and prize winner in local and regional shows, won over a field of several hundred with his dramatic, yet poetic, "Storm Cloud." It is a pastoral lake done in somber but impressive grays, blue - blacks, greens and yellows.

The artist works from nature, finding his material mainly in rural Mahoning County, and frequently right on his family farm where he has painted for many years since returning from Art School in Washington, D. C. He has exhibited in several previous Ohio Water Color Society shows, and has been represented in seven of the 10 New Year shows where five of his oils and water colors have received awards.

He is included in the current "First Decade" at Butler Art Institute, a New Year show retrospective of important work by area artists chosen from the last 10 years.

Other Youngstown artists whose water colors were accepted by the Columbus jury are: Jeanette Brown, "Lily Pond"; Joseph Green, "Tortola"; Albert M. Wearstler, "Way from the Docks." and Fred Yost, "East Palestine Night." Yost, president of the Ohio Water Color Society this year, has been active in promoting this annual event for Ohio artists.

Ten artists are represented from Cincinnati, seven from Akron, five from Youngstown, five from Cleveland, and from Toledo and Dayton, two each.

Second place this year went to Arthur Helwig of Cincinnati for "The Cocks Must Crow." Helwig's work is known here through his past participation in New Year shows, Youngstown's regional annual exhibit.

CANFIELD — Private services were Saturday at Canfield Village Cemetery for Mrs. Janet L. Hendricks, 66, of 9535 Leffingwell Road, who died of cancer Thursday afternoon at home.

Mrs. Hendricks was born Feb. 1, 1922, in Wilkinsburg, Pa., a daughter of Myron and Ethel Hall Miller. She was a retired land agent, having worked in the oil and natural gas industry.

Her first husband, Paul Hendricks, whom she married Jan. 15, 1946, died in 1956.

She leaves three sons, Paul Hendricks, Robin Hendricks and Karel

Cubick, all of Canfield; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Bryson of Grass Valley, Calif.; a brother, Thomas Miller of Canfield; five grandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

The family asks that material tributes take the form of contributions to the American Cancer Society. Lane Funeral Home handled arrangements.

Eldora Hendricks McCline & Alfred

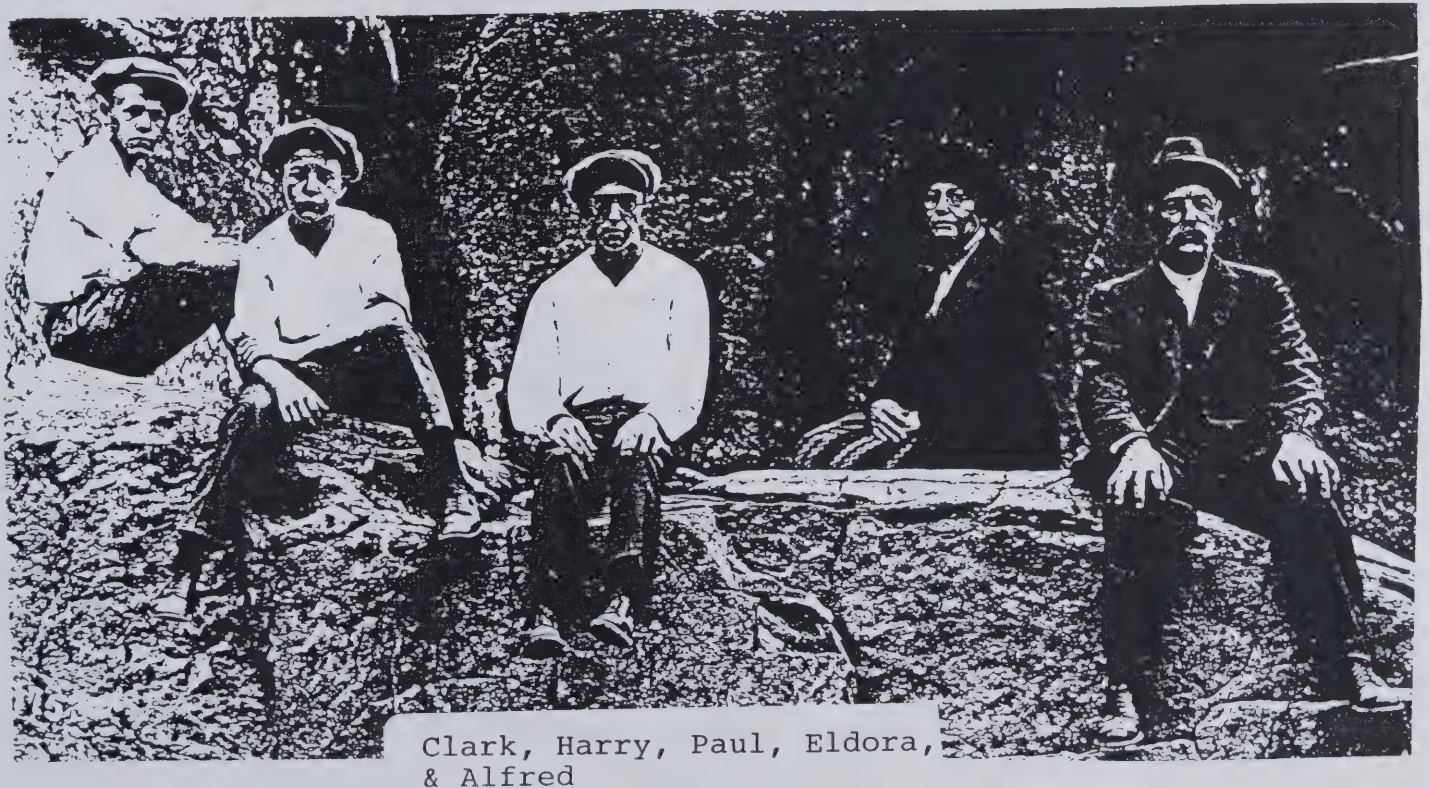

How they came to California. They lived on Calla Rd. in Green Twp., Mahoning Cty., OH by the Lewis Templin Seed Nursery. Eldora and Alfred had 8 children, 4 girls, 4 boys. Alf was quite a "rounder" -- he played a trumpet for traveling McKinley election campaign band. When he was home he just got Eldora pregnant. He was a carpenter by trade. It seems that one of the boys had asthma very bad. In Alf's travels he heard that Santa Clara would be good for the son. In 1909 they auctioned off all their stuff, rented a big railroad car, loaded beds and chicken sandwiches (I never could figure out how they kept the chicken from spoiling as it took over a week to get to CA). They even brought one of the girl cousins and Alf's stepson, so there were 12. They settled in a big old house in Santa Clara. Paul was still so sick that they moved on to Fresno, CA which was a warmer city. He still was so bad that he shot himself later. Alf then died and Eldora rented big old houses and made her living by running boarding houses. Donna remembers spending summers with her and peeling potatoes by the bucket and apples, etc., as she served dinner to all the boarders. Two of Donna's uncles and aunts met and married through the boarding house.

Alfred McCline was the Post Master of Cala Oh. in the very early 1900s (the family came to California in 1909) He and Eldora raised Wyandotte chickens for sale. We have official records that document this. The other bits of information that I am including are family stories.

For the trip to CA they rented a box car and traveled in it.

Alfred was a part of president McKinley's reelection entourage. We heard that he played a musical instrument in the band. We also heard that he was present when the president was assassinated. The time and place don't fit real well although Alf was known to be a traveling man. Does anyone have any memories of this story?

When the family first came to Santa Clara Nola was apprenticed to a tailor who provided services to Sarah Winchester (Winchester Mystery House). Nola was sent to the house to do the personal fittings. So some of us can say that we had the same dressmaker as crazy Sarah Winchester Alfred McCline was known as Alf or A.H. Many of his family used initials instead of names.

His grandfather John Martin Miller supposedly began a newspaper in Cumberland Co PA. in the late 1850s. However the paper failed about the same time John Martin died. We are trying to locate micro-film of an edition

Famed watercolor artist dabbles in flowers

Watercolorist Robin "Gay" McCline is exhibiting a different subject, flowers, at Plums Contemporary Arts through May 12.

Robin "Gay" McCline is a confirmed "plein air" painter, a French term meaning "in the open air." What this means, of course, is that McCline paints outdoors. In fact, most all of his paintings are completed in the field.

"An artist paints the things that interest them," said McCline, speaking on his preference for the outdoors. "I like these things; the skies, clouds, the mountains. I also enjoy the variety of subjects we're given because of the seasons."

McCline, a Fresno artist who has been painting since the 1950s, is one of the featured artists at the Great Flower Show '96, an annual event featuring pictures of flowers in a variety of mediums at Plums Contemporary Arts in Fig Garden Village.

Flowers are a somewhat different subject for McCline, who uses watercolors to paint landscapes and scenery.

"It's a little different, and I have to find my own way of doing it," McCline said. "Flowers are more colorful."

McCline began using watercolors while studying architecture at the University of California at Berkeley.

"When we went to school, the architects presented their work, the preliminary drawings, in watercolor," McCline said. "I decided to take a class in art, then another art class, and then a crafts class."

McCline is a registered architect and four years ago, he retired from Fresno City College where he was an instructor of architecture.

"My career was as an architect, with painting on the side," he said.

Throughout his painting career, McCline has experimented with a variety of mediums, including oil paints, crayons and ink. His medium of choice, though, is watercolor, and the variety of colors that medium provides.

"I've gone through cycles of color," said McCline. "Sometimes there is a color I'm interested in, so I'll begin using it. Then, after a while, I'll change. And sometimes, I don't know what will happen when certain colors are used together."

McCline's paintings aptly demonstrate his "cycle" of colors. A review of his paintings takes you through a spectrum of color, from green, to blue, to purple, yet all the while, depicting the beauty and majesty of the outdoor subjects he likes so well.

For the past 25 years, McCline has been a part of a group of painters that regularly get together on Tuesdays to paint. McCline says that the interaction with other artists helps the creative process. "The advantage of going out with somebody is that they'll see something I didn't see," McCline said. "Or we'll ask one another. 'What color did you use?' It's the ability to communicate these kinds of things that are very enjoyable."

McCline is a former member of the Artist League of Fresno and the California Watercolors Society. He served on the Fresno Downtown Mall Art Committee and the Courthouse Park Art Committee. McCline has participated and won awards for his paintings in numerous art exhibitions including the Artist League of Fresno, the Fresno District Fair, San Joaquin Valley Annuals, and the First Savings Best Art Invitational.

Recent one-man shows include Fresno City College, First Congregational Church, Fresno Philharmonic, Kings County Art League, Plums Contemporary Arts and the Fresno Art Museum. McCline also is one of the San Joaquin Valley artists featured in the 1996 calendar offered by the Women's League of the Fresno Art Museum.

Today, McCline has more time available to pursue the outdoor painting he does so well. Likewise, both he and his wife, Sue, who also is a painter, have more time to spend both on their painting, as well as other projects. Sue is a volunteer with the San Joaquin River Parkway Trust, and McCline currently is serving with the Patrons for Cultural Arts, which is restoring seven art-deco murals in the foyer of the Veteran's Memorial Auditorium, as well as Habitat for Humanity, which is working on 89 houses that will be built at Jensen and Fruit avenues. The couple also has three grown children.

McCline's flower paintings will be on exhibit at Plums Contemporary Arts through May 12. And in the mean time, McCline plans to continue painting.

"An artist always is searching to do the best he can do with his own talents and skills," McCline said. "I've done some very good paintings. There are more that I can do better." □

From Donna Vosti's April 18, 1995 letter:

Mary Crawford lives in Santa Barbara, CA. She is 90 and doing very remarkably. She is the one in the bank robbery picture. Donna sent it along to her and she was quite pleased. She said the article was not quite correct.

"Just got back a nice letter from our Mary Crawford. She enclosed a little write-up about her bank robbery experience. She says that you may rewrite any or all of it, that it happened so long ago that she felt she wasn't remembering it too well. You realize that she is 90 years old now, and pretty spry. She lost her husband, Herman, a couple of years ago and we all worried so about her, but she seems to be doing fine. She has 2 girls, married with 5 grandchildren, plus a little apricot colored toy poodle, named "Rusty." She lives by herself and does all her own cooking, etc. I should do so well!! She says that when she and Herman took a trip out here (California) many years ago that they were so impressed with the warm weather and that the snow and cold was really bothering them in Ohio, was why they moved. Lived here in Saratoga and San Jose for awhile and finally went to Santa Barbara where she is now. (410 Canon Drive, Santa Barbara, CA 93105)"

The following paragraph was written by Mary Calvin Crawford (August 1995).

Everything must have been normal at the Union Bank on December 26, 1935. Mr. Funkhouser and Sylvia Smith were working in the main office as usual and taking care of customers. I was operating the posting machine in the glass partitioned passageway which led from the lobby to the vault.

Suddenly, I heard the burglar alarm ringing and a man leaped over the glass door in front of me. The bandits forced the three of us to lie down on the floor of the small office next to where I was working. Then they forced us to go into the vault and they locked the door. We weren't concerned about this because there was a key hidden in the vault.

It was all over in a few minutes. They had left the bank and we let ourselves out of the vault. Some of the businessmen dashed into the bank to check on us and find out what had happened. Naturally, it caused a lot of excitement in our small town. I had nightmares for some time afterward.

Later, a policeman took Sylvia and me to Youngstown, hoping that we might be able to identify the men in a police line-up. Unfortunately, we could not. As far as I know they were never apprehended.

Bandits hit Columbiana in Christmas 1935

THE CHILLING THREAT OF a possible holdup from rings of roving bandits had pretty much dwindled as 1935 drew to a close — the "big time" gangsters they imitated had been decimated one by one. "Pretty Boy" Floyd, John Dillinger and George "Baby Face" Nelson had died violent deaths a few years before. Kate "Ma" Barker, the 55-year-old member of the notorious Karpis gang, was gunned down in January at her Florida hideout, and racketeer Dutch Schultz was felled by federal bullets in New Jersey the previous October.

Still, shopowners in Columbiana weren't taking unnecessary chances. A few years earlier, the merchants scattered along Main Street bought a supply of shotguns and distributed them to every business in town (Not, of course, that they expected to ever have to use them). So the shocking event of Thursday, Dec. 26, 1935 which marred the Christmas holiday in Columbiana didn't leave them totally unprepared. Later on, though, they would wonder how worthwhile the idea really was.

Christmas business had been brisk for Tracy Tidd and so on the day after Christmas he was in his department store office, going through his depleted inventory and figuring out what to reorder.

In the Union Bank directly across the street, bank president E. P. Funkhouser was at teller's window number one, bent over Tuesday's transactions. Two employees were on duty: Miss Sylvia Smith, the company treasurer, was working at window number three. Mrs. Herman Crawford was in her glass-walled office at the rear tabulating figures on an adding machine.

At 12:20 p.m., three strangers in work clothes burst through the door. "Don't say a word, but hold up your hands, and don't make any noise or I'll shoot!" one of the trio ordered Funkhouser, flashing a blue steel revolver. Another confronted Miss Smith. The third robber rushed to the back of the room where he stood guard beside the glass door leading to the bookkeeping office. Both Funkhouser and Miss Smith pressed the foot alarm buttons, and the warning bells started clanging.

Clambering on a chair and hoisting himself over the glass partition, the third bandit smashed a gas light as he dropped down beside the bookkeeper's desk. The other two were herded into the office, and the three intruders hastily emptied the cash drawers. Then Funkhouser was forced to open the vault. Scooping up the cash inside and locking the three employees behind the vault gate, the trio fled toward the entrance. Only five minutes had elapsed.

Meanwhile, in the alley between the bank and Dr. Mellon's office a black 1936 Buick Sedan was parked, the engine running. A masked man lounged against the driver's door, a machine gun in his hand. Realizing what was happening, Tidd raced upstairs to his apartment and snatched the 22-calibre rifle he'd hidden in a closet. He sprinted to the window, and, taking careful aim, he fired at the waiting gunman.

Without hesitation, the lookout turned and answered with a fusillade of machine gun fire — at least 38 shells smashed through the glass window, but Tidd, who quickly ducked, was unscathed. Later he said he was "thankful for the good, substantial walls" between himself and the street.

Roy Baker owned another building across from the bank and, when he heard the burglar alarm go off, tried to phone police from the telephone inside Miller Furniture Store. The gunman, however, noticed him and waved him away with a warning gesture. Baker dropped the phone but he called to Mrs. Ruby Schiller at the back of the store and told her to contact the State Highway Patrol and Sheriff Frank Ballantine.

Clarence Shontz was motoring to his grocery store near the bank and slowed down to see what was going on. "Get moving," the lookout cautioned. George Mowen, one of Shontz's employees, peered from the store entry after hearing the alarm. He jumped back inside when the machine gun was leveled at him.

As the trio scurried from the bank with over $9,000 in loot, the lookout jumped into the sedan and the quartet sped out of the alley onto Elm Street, moving east onto Route 14.

Obtaining a key secreted inside the vault, the bank officials gained their freedom and Funkhouser notified the State Highway Patrol at its barracks along the Lisbon Road. Patrolmen F. S. Van Allen, Carrol Ruben and Homer Hall sped to the scene, followed soon afterward by Sheriff Ballantine and his deputies. Local marshal Barney Millen joined in the hunt.

At 2 p.m. that afternoon, Patrolman Van Allen found the car abandoned along the Brick Church Road five miles east of the village and about 100 yards off Route 14. The rear window had been smashed to permit the bandits to fire at pursuers.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Felgar's farm lay along the seldom-traveled roadway and the two had watched the exchange of cars. A late model car pulled up off Route 14, a man got out and hurried to talk with two men who emerged from the Buick, the Felgars told Van Allen. Then, he said, they walked back to the highway, climbed in the waiting car, and headed toward East Palestine. The patrolman speculated the other two men had switched to a second car near the village. Two motorists told Van Allen that they witnessed the changeover as they were driving by.

A meat salesman reported that he spotted the sedan in the village about noon. Later as he drove toward East Palestine on Route 14 he saw the same "big black car passing at a speed which must have been 80 miles an hour."

Telephone linemen who were working at the intersection of Route 7 and 14 watched as the car passed the crossroad "at a lively speed." "The noise of the wheel chains clanging against the fenders" caught their attention.

It turned out the car had been stolen from a Canton Buick dealer the previous Saturday night. Paul E. Myers was accosted when he was stopped by a lone gunman at the corner of Twelfth Street and Cleveland Avenue NW. Myers, who saw another car following close behind through the rear window, was forced to drive to an isolated lane near the H. H. Timken estate. When they reached a dead end, Myers was ejected from the car, the gunman slid into the driver's seat and sped away. The speedometer read 32 miles when he last saw his auto, and showed 219 when he got it back.

Fingerprint experts Sergeant Andrews and Patrolman H. P. Gross from the Highway Patrol district barracks in Mansfield gathered prints from the bank and the car. However, nothing ever came of it and the case would remain unsolved.

Eyewitness recalls village bank robbery

90-year-old Mary Crawford remembers Christmas of 1935

By Lois Firestone

THE NOON WHISTLE had wailed minutes earlier, signaling a dinner recess for Columbiana store owners. Business had been slow-moving throughout the morning on this day after Christmas, mostly because of the frigid weather.

The thermometer had dipped 24 degrees to 5 below zero in four hours the day before, and blizzard-like winds were sweeping falling snow into drifts.

As the year was drawing to a close, the gangster era, too, was swiftly moving toward its demise. Most of the bigtime racketeers had died untimely deaths and those that hadn't were being chased by government deputies. John Dillinger, Baby Face Nelson, and Pretty Boy Floyd were gone and Dutch Schultz was felled by federal agents the previous October.

Still, holdups were an everyday happening in small towns — armed bandits boldly roamed from city to city, making off with cash from the tills of terrified store owners. As a precaution against this very thing, Columbiana's merchants had a few years earlier jointly purchased and distributed a supply of guns. Never, they would say later, had they expected to use them.

The holdup of the Union Bank at 12:20 p.m. the afternoon of December 26, 1935 changed everyone's thinking — for months, the events that followed would be hashed and rehashed in and out of the village.

Newspaper accounts are about the only source for details of the robbery, although one eyewitness remembers it well. Mary Calvin Crawford was a young married woman of 30, working as a bookkeeper for President E. P. Funkhouser at the Union Bank. Today, a widow of 90, Mary resides in Santa Barbara, California. She and her husband Herman left Columbiana several years ago and moved to the west coast to escape Ohio's frigid winters.

It had been a normal morning at the bank that day 60 years ago, Mary recalls.

"Mr. Funkhouser and Sylvia Smith were working in the main office as usual and taking care of customers. I was operating the posting machine in the glass partitioned passageway which led from the lobby to the vault."

"Suddenly, I heard the burglar alarm ringing and a man leaped over the glass door in front of me. The bandits forced the three of us to lie down on the floor of the small office next to where I was working. Then they forced us to go into the vault and they locked the door. We weren't concerned about this because there was a key hidden in the vault."

Three strangers in work clothes had burst through the bank's front door. One of the trio flashed a blue steel revolver and ordered Funkhouser, "Don't say a word, but hold up your hands and don't make any noise or I'll shoot!" Another confronted Sylvia Smith. However, both Ms. Smith and the bank president pressed foot alarm buttons and warning bells started clanging.

It was the third robber who rushed to the back of the room to stand guard beside the glass door leading to Mary Crawford's bookkeeping office and held her at gunpoint. And it was he who clambered on a chair and hoisted himself over the glass partition. As he dropped down beside Mrs. Crawford's desk he smashed a gaslight.

The other two were herded into the office, and the three robbers hastily emptied the cash drawers. Then Funkhouser was forced to open the vault. "They were young men and unmasked," Funkhouser later recalled. "All three appeared very nervous. Their leader threatened to kill me once when I showed reluctance to do as he said."

Scooping up the cash inside and locking the three employees behind the vault gate, the trio fled toward the bank's entrance. Only five minutes had elapsed.

"It was all over in a few minutes," Mary Crawford remembers. "They left the bank and we let ourselves out of the vault."

While all this was going on inside, a drama was unfolding outside. Across the street in his store, Roy Baker heard the alarm and, looking out a window was horrified to see a man lounging against the driver's side of a black 1936 Buick sedan, engine running, in the alley between the bank and Dr. Mellon's office. A machine gun was clutched ominously in the stranger's hand.

Baker started to run toward the Miller Furniture store where a telephone was installed to alert police. The lookout, seeing him, waved Baker back with a warning gesture. Baker dropped the telephone but, as he did, he called to Ruby Schiller, who was working in the back of the furniture store, to alert the sheriff and highway patrol.

George Mowen, a clerk in Clarence Shontz's grocery store located near the bank, peered from the market's doorway after hearing the alarm. He jerked back inside when the bandit leveled the machine gun toward him. Shontz himself was driving by at the time, and stopped his auto momentarily to inquire what was going on at the bank; "get moving," the waiting gunman told him.

About the same time, Tracy Tidd spotted the gunman and getaway car from the window of his department store across the street. Tidd was living in an upstairs apartment where he'd secreted the 22-calibre rifle he'd bought a few years earlier in a closet. Racing upstairs to retrieve it and sprinting to the window, he took careful aim and fired at the unsuspecting gunman.

Tidd jumped back to safety as the lookout turned his machine gun on the second floor window and let loose a fusillade of gunfire — at least 38 bullets pierced the glass, Tidd said later. None of Tidd's shots hit the gunman.

As Tidd watched, the trio scurried from the bank entrance with over $9,000 in loot. Scrambling into the waiting auto, the quartet sped out of the alley onto Elm Street and moved east to Route 14.

Funkhouser, freeing himself from the vault, called the highway patrol at the barracks along the Lisbon Road. Patrolmen F. S. Van Allen, Carrol Ruben and Homer Hall sped to the scene, followed soon afterward by Sheriff Frank Ballantine and his deputies. Marshal Barney Miller of Columbiana joined in the hunt.

At 2 o'clock that afternoon the bandit's car was found abandoned on Brick Church Road, 100 yards from Route 14, a half mile east of the village. The rear window had been shattered, ostensibly to fire at possible pursuers.

The Elmer Fegars lived along the road and seen an exchange of cars earlier. A late model car pulled off Route 14, a man got out and rushed to the parked Buick where two men emerged, the Fegars told Van Allen. All three piled into the waiting car and headed toward East Palestine. Van Allen speculated the other two men had switched to a second car near the village because two motorists told him they'd witnessed the changeover as they passed by.

The gunmen were spotted by others. One witness said he'd seen the car in town three days earlier — he noticed it, he said, because it was shiny and new. A meat salesman saw the car while he was driving through town the day of the robbery. Later, as he drove along Route 14 toward East Palestine he saw "the same big black car passing at a speed which must have been 80 miles an hour."

Telephone linemen working at the intersection of Route 14 and 7 reported seeing a car pass by at a "lively" speed. The noise of the wheel chains clanging against the fenders caught their attention.

It turned out the car had been stolen from a Canton Buick dealer the previous Saturday night. Paul E. Myers was accosted by a lone gunman at the corner of Twelfth Street and Cleveland Avenue NW. Myers, who saw another car following close behind through the rear window, was forced to drive to an isolated lane near the H. H. Timken estate.

When they reached a dead end, Myers was ejected from the car, the gunman slid into the driver's seat and sped away. The speedometer read 32 miles when he last saw the car and showed 219 when he got it back.

Fingerprint experts Sergeant Andrews and Patrolman H. P. Grossglauss from the highway patrol district barracks in Massillon gathered prints from the bank and the car. However, nothing ever came of it.

Weeks later, four suspects were apprehended and held by authorities. Mary Crawford remembers that "a policeman took Sylvia and me to Youngstown, hoping that we might be able to identify the men in a police lineup. Unfortunately, we could not. As far as I know they were never apprehended."

"Naturally, it caused a lot of excitement in our small town. I had nightmares for some time afterward."

Barbara Wright has been researching her Hendricks family genealogy and has corresponded with Donna Vosti of Sarasota, California, a researcher on both the Hendricks and Calvin clans. Barbara ran across our original story of the robbery published December 22, 1992 and recognized the connection with Mary Calvin Crawford, who in turn wrote her recollection of the robbery.

Taped Memories of Mary (Calvin) Crawford, April 22, 1988

Question: Tell us about Calla, OH

- °Grandma (Mary Templin Hendricks) lived in a white frame house. I just remember going to the greenhouse when I was a little girl. Mark and Alice Templin lived next door. There was a stonewall. It seemed like it was up a steep bank. Their house was tan. I liked going there because Aunt Alice let me play with Ethel's (Delfs) doll carriage. Uncle Mark wore a coolie hat and showed me my first kittens.
- °Ethel Delfs husband, Herbert, had a horse and feed store. Aunt Lucinda lived in a green painted house with Grandma Mary (Templin) Hendricks. She was Lewis Templin and Sarah Ann's daughter. Lucinda had a parrot.
- °Aunt Emma gave "good" kids balloons. She was wonderful with children and almost raised the Hawkins' children.
- °Lucinda's quilt is a log cabin pattern, wool with print back. It is done in solid colors of green and cream.
- °Your family (the McClines) lived outside Columbiana on the point. It was a nice looking white frame house. The only time I remember being there was when they had a sale. The McClines had a whole boxcar to go to California in. There was an auctioneer. They owned the house. Lucinda went to Nebraska. Mary Hendricks went with the family. Eldora did the same thing. Mary Crawford doesn't remember sitting down and talking with her Grandmother.
- °Andrew Templin remarried a woman named Mae. She was quite a "foxy" woman. He brought her back to Ohio to show her off. I don't remember his first wife. Mary was a teenager when they came back to California. Sarah Peck (Andrew's daughter) lived in Nebraska.
- °George Hendricks probably had consumption. He went out to Colorado for a time. His children were Nina, Vena, and Lewis. George made a little gun with moving parts, not a real gun. It was stolen.
- °Vena married a Platt. Check U.C. California for a teacher who is the son of Vena. She came out here to California to live with her boys. Charles Platt is a university professor.
- °Aunt Maggie and DeVere never wrote letters. The green bowl with decoupage flowers was made by DeVere Craddock. It is a coconut shell with ten coats of paint.
- °Bassinger is pronounced with a long A and a hard G. The Bassinger cousins dropped out of the S. Beatrice & DeVere went to business college together. Todd wanted to be a civil engineer but there wasn't enough money. Todd had a trucking company. Eventually Todd went to work for Standard Oil of Ohio.
- °Todd's wife, Hazel, was a fussy little woman. They lived in Youngstown. After Todd's death she didn't want to be part of the family.
- °The family all had light colored eyes. Charles Hendricks probably died of consumption too.
- °Paul Hendricks was talkative. He and DeVere were special friends. Grandma Hendricks used to worry that they would fall in love, but they didn't.
- °Floyd was a quiet boy. Bea's husband was named Tubby (Harold).
- °Eldora and Alf McCline and their three boys (Clark, Paul, Harry) came back in 1923. They drove and had a tent and camped. On the way back Alf wanted to go to Chugwater to see some relatives. The rest of the family didn't want to go. Alf got out of the car and went on foot. Alf had all the money with him, but somehow Dora and the boys got home. The relatives later told Dora that Alf wasn't very happy about what he had done.
- °Alf was possibly quite a character and quite a tease. I remember that one time it grated on me. He was a very good carpenter. (Mary doesn't remember him being a musician.)
- °She (Mary) is quite certain that Ray did not have a sibling.
- °Mary got acquainted with the three McCline boys -- Clark painted but wouldn't let her watch. Mary became quite close to Paul. Her last letter came back marked "deceased" but her mother had already told her about him. He had not seemed sad or depressed. The family moved to Fresno hoping the hot weather would help his asthma. He committed suicide there.
- °Paul attended the 1915 World's Fair with Nola.
- °In Ohio, picnics were usually held at Sheldon Grove near Lisbon.
- °Wright lived down the road from the old Hendricks' farm. Because Charles died early and Susannah and Jacob were dead no one was close to the Hendricks' side. Wright talked about them a little.
- °George's daughter, Nina, came to California with the McClines. She was close to Ada and Nola and her father had died. She married Terry Helms of Los Gatos. Later she married a Mr. Jones. Nina and Terry had a daughter named Eleanor.
- °Vena Hendricks married Platt. They lived in Findley, Ohio. They had two sons, James and Charles. One son, James had a Phd. and taught at UC Berkley. The other son, Charles, had a Masters in Psych and taught at DePauw, IN. James had a son also named Charles who would be approximately Sandy (Bill) Grays' age. He probably lives in California.

- °The seed company went bankrupt. There may have been bad feelings between Mark and Charles. When they went bankrupt Emma put all Charley's clothes on the bed but the bank officers said they wouldn't take the clothes off his back. Emma was very defensive about Charley.
- °Lewis Templin began the seed company. At one time most of the boys were there. Richard Lewis went to Cleveland and started a seed company there. When we were in the third grade they were selling penny packets of seeds to school children.
- °Curt went to Garrettsville, Ohio.
- °Mark (MB we called him) became editor of the Canfield (Mahoning) Dispatch and Mayor, I think.
- °Garrettsville is west of Warren, OH.
- °The family was great for calling people by initials. Curt was my mother's uncle and he was quite nice to her when she was growing up. He took her to a resort place near Lake Erie.
- °Mahoning County had a large fair.
- °I think Curt was slightly crippled as he walked with a limp.
- °Wilber (RL's son) didn't stay at the greenhouse. He went out to Elkhart, IN and had a music store there at northeast corner of IN.
- °Charles went to work at the Altima Culture Company in Calla. It is a related nursery business with greenhouses. Charles had been to the ADA business college that Aunt Emma had gone to. The basement was all painted up!
- °One year they raised glads, also shrubbery. Probably on Leffingwell Road. Charles also worked in an office on streetcar line.
- °Uncle Norman was a small man. Uncle Will wasn't a large man either. Alex was quiet, a typical farmer. He was a very hard worker. Rose, his wife, was tight. Grandma told a story about her shelling peas. One pea dropped and she just had to find it. She used burlap sacks for aprons.
- °Jane Crawford had a place in the country in Maryland, almost 9 acres. Both of them went to Cal Tech. Jane had a chance to go to Cambridge Uni. in England. Rob went to Uni. of Paris. They met again and married in Paris. Margaret was born in Europe. They went to Heidelberg where the next child was born. They next got in at Harvard and lived in Boston. Bob was involved in the development of "Nutra Sweet." Now they are going into business for themselves in protein research. They bought a 3-car garage with offices upstairs.
- °After Floyd died, Vi left. Janie and Paul lived down the road. Janie and the boys moved in and took care of Uncle Will. After Will was gone his place was sold to a country club. Will owned a quarter section.
- °Alexander Templin (uncle to Lucy and Eldora) was killed in the Civil War. He was reported as being seen crossing a river, but was never seen again.
- °Uncle Judd was a clumsy man. One time he was repairing a roof and needed to saw a board. He sat on the wrong side of the board and sawed himself right off the roof!
- °Alf was the Postmaster when he and Dora were first married. He worked in Daytona, Leetonia, and possibly Calla.
- °Eldora's Fresno house was at 1095 Van Ness Street.
- °Uncle Will believed in stocking up on food. He would buy bananas in the whole bunch. He had a motto -- Use the best and you'll have the best!
